AMERICAN COLUMNS SMASH BEYOND REIMS

Two Yank Armies Less Than Forty Miles of Belgium

One Unit Battles on Approaches of Loen, Well Across Escape Path of Nazis Above Seine
ROUEN IS EVACUATED
BULLETIN
London, Aug. 30.—(P)—The United Nations radio at Algiers announced tonight that American troops had occupied Loen, 36 miles from Belgium.
London, Aug. 30.—(P)—Berlin radio declared today that American troops had driven almost to St. Dizier, little more than 80 miles from the German border.

By the Associated Press
London, Aug. 30.—Two American armored columns were less than 40 miles from Belgium today.
One clattered into Reims, siege fortress of World War I, and pushed 10 miles beyond.
A second unit to the northwest battled on approaches to Loen, within 38 miles of the frontier, carrying Doughboys well across the escape path for German armies above the Seine and on the Pas de Calais rocket-bomb coast.
The U. S. Third Army struck ahead all along a 70-mile front, and the Allies on the western wing knifed as deep as 25 miles north of the Seine between Paris and the sea.
The German high command said the Seine port-city of Rouen had been evacuated.
Reims, noted for its cathedral and its champagne, is 50 miles from Belgium, and 106 from the German homeland border. Tank units crossing the Vesle river already had covered 10 of the remaining miles to Belgium. American besieging Loen were but 93 miles from Brussels, Belgian capital.
Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army was lunging on an almost straight line from Loen southeast to Vitry-le-Francois on the upper Marne, and was mopping up that town 96 miles from the Reich and 45 miles from Verdun. Chalons-sur-Marne to the northwest, and Les Grandes Loges eight miles northwest of Chalons fell.
Loss of Rouen, who converging highways lead to Dieppe, Le Havre and the Somme valley, was announced by Berlin as Canadians closed in.

Anniversary of Naval Air Force

Washington, Aug. 30.—(P)—The navy's famed Task Force 58—its scoured the Japanese and drove her fleet into hiding with the battle of the eastern Philippines—was "just a sweet, summer zephyr" compared with new ships, planes and weapons now ready and waiting.
These are the views of Rear Admiral Alfred E. Montgomery, commander of an aircraft carrier task group in the Pacific, and of Vice Admiral Aubrey S. Fitch, deputy chief of naval operations for air, delivered today on the 31st anniversary of the navy's air service.
Montgomery observed that "considering the unexpectedly small losses during the past year and the increasing expansion of our forces, we can x x x look with confidence to the future and the early extermination of the Japanese."

Associated Press Bulletins

Canberra, Australia, Aug. 30.—(P)—Thirty thousand men will be released from the Australian army and 15,000 from the air force by next June 30 to help relieve the commonwealth's critical labor shortage, Prime Minister John Curtin told the house of representatives today.
New York, Aug. 30.—(P)—The Moscow radio said tonight the Soviet government had decorated Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov with a second medal of the gold star and had conferred on Marshal Alexander M. Vasilevsky the medal of the gold star and the title of Hero of the Soviet Union.
Paris, Aug. 30.—(P)—Paris movie goers are looking forward eagerly to seeing their first new American films since 1940, but thousands in the last four years viewed the old ones over and over again rather than patronize German-operated theatres.
London, Aug. 30.—(P)—Yugoslav Partisan Forces have captured Kolashin in Montenegro and the defeated German garrison is retreating northward, a broadcast communique from Marshal Tito's headquarters announced today.
London, Aug. 30.—(P)—The Czechoslovak underground army came into the open today as a fighting unit. In its first communique delivered to London by underground radio, it reported the capture of one town and fierce fighting against the Germans in four areas.

NEW REGIME IS INSTALLED IN HUNGARY

Germany Tries To Shore Up Reich's Last Balkan Defenses Against On-rushing Soviet Army
NEW MILITARY CABINET
By the Associated Press
London, Aug. 30.—A new government was installed today in Hungary in an apparent German attempt to shore up the Reich's last Balkan defenses against the on-rushing Red army.
Berlin broadcasts last night announced the fall of Premier Doemoe Sztojaj's regime less than 24 hours after Russian forces had spearheaded deep within Hungary-held Transylvania.
The German propaganda agency, Transocean, said Admiral Nicholas Horthy, Hungarian regent, had appointed Col. Gen. Vitez Geza Lakatos to form a new government. Lakatos, cabinet, announced simultaneously, was studied with military figures.
Lakatos himself was Hungarian commander on the Russian front.
This abrupt change in Hungary, under tight Nazi control since Hitler's troops marched in last March, came amid reports from both Axis and Allied sources that the Germans were withdrawing as hurriedly as possible from Bulgaria, now on the verge of peace.
A dispatch from Ankara said it was believed that Stoichko Moslanov, Bulgarian peace emissary, already had informed Great Britain and the United States that his country has accepted armistice terms. This dispatch quoted informed sources there as declaring an armistice was imminent and that the document may be signed in Cairo.
Moscow, which on Saturday announced that Bulgaria had proclaimed herself a neutral, declared last night the Soviet government had not accepted this stand—a statement which in effect served notice upon Sofia to surrender to the United States and Great Britain. Russia and Bulgaria are not at war.
Germany also rushed troops into (Turn to Page Five)

National Campaign Sprints Into Its Final Ten Weeks

By the Associated Press
The presidential campaign sprinted into its final ten weeks today, speeded up by President Roosevelt's announcement of his first personal activity and the formal opening of Governor Thomas E. Dewey's race by three other Republican governors.
Mr. Roosevelt told his news conference yesterday that he would address the AFL Teamsters' Union September 23 at a dinner in Washington, as he did in launching his winning third term campaign in 1940. He said that, while the speech would not be very political, it would have a political tinge and that the Democratic national committee would pay for his time on the air.
There are indications the president will let Vice President Wallace do most of the traveling in this campaign, along with Senator Truman of Missouri, the chief executives new running mate.
Governors Earl Warren of California, Dwight H. Green of Illinois and Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut launched Dewey's Republican bid for the presidency with a triple-radio-borne blast at Sidney Hillman and big city Democratic leaders backing the Roosevelt-Truman ticket.
Green asserted that details of President Roosevelt's renomination were "dictated by the new deal high command and carried into execution by the bosses of the big city new deal machines, Kelly and Hague and Flynn and Hannegan."
Warren said that the Republican party "does not propose to buy this election," and that it would insist "that Mr. Sidney Hillman and his committees" be barred from doing so.
Hillman, who disclaimed before a congressional campaign funds committee Monday any intention of his CIO Political Action Committee to "capture" either major political party, also was the target of an attack by Republican National Chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr.
At a Chicago news conference, Brownell said there was "growing revulsion" in labor ranks against the "arrogance and effrontery" of Hillman and the CIO-PAC.
Democratic National Chairman Robert L. Hannegan concentrated on the vote-getting mechanics of the campaign. Announcing a three-day series of conferences with party leaders of 15 New England states, he said:

Heavy Fighting Reported On Italian Front

By NOLAN NORGARD
Rome, Aug. 30.—(P)—Smashing through German parachute troops in the first full blown attack on the Italian front in recent weeks, British and Polish forces are driving off his last hill positions before the Adriatic end of the Gothic line and are within 18 miles of the Po valley rim.
Heavy fighting was reported as the Eighth Army dislodged the crack Nazi first parachute division—reformed since its defeat at Cassino—from a three-mile long ridge overlooking the Foglia river after crossing the Arzella river.
The naval command disclosed that a British destroyer had reported the advance along the Adriatic by slipping close in shore Monday night and bombarding the fortified Pesaro area.
In the center of the Italian front the Germans continued slowly pulling back into strong defenses in the northern Apennines.

Charge Turkey Is Friendly To Reich

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Moscow, Aug. 30.—(P)—The semi-official newspaper Pravda today accused Turkey of harboring German spies and turning her diplomatic break with the Nazis into a "friendly rupture."
With Russian troops closer to the Dardanelles than on any occasion since the first World War, Pravda asserted German diplomatic, military, aviation and commercial attaches still were in Ankara 20 days after their scheduled departure.
(At the same time the FCC reported a Moscow broadcast appealing to Spaniards to oust the Franco-Franco regime and break with Germany "to gain a place for Spain among the democratic and freedom-loving nations.") It said Franco was a "willing host for all Fascists who are trying to escape the people's justice.")

AP Correspondent Boyle Is Injured

Paris, Aug. 30.—(P)—Hal Boyle, Associated Press war correspondent, was injured yesterday when he was struck by a motorcycle during the American infantry parade down the Champs Elysees.
Ironically, Boyle had escaped bombs, shells and bullets in the north African landings and in the campaigns through Tunisia, Sicily, Italy and northern France without injury, although he nearly was drowned when he went ashore in North Africa with the first invading Americans.
Boyle, who is from Kansas City, Mo., was gathering names for home town newspapers when a motorcycle policeman lost control of his machine which was clipping along at 40 miles an hour and spun into the crowd.
Boyle was hit by the motorcycle and thrown high in the air. He landed on his back and was unable to rise for several minutes. Although in pain, he wrote his story before going to a hospital for x-rays. A doctor said he suffered no spinal injury.
BOY KILLED BY GUN AT NORTH EAST CAMP
Erie, Aug. 30.—(P)—Peter Scardro, 17, of Pittsburgh, was accidentally killed today when a rifle being handed to him by Jack Bonant, 18, of Pittsburgh was accidentally discharged, deputy coroner Allan Firman said.
The boys were at a tourists camp at North East, near here, and were preparing to leave for home when the accident occurred.

RAF ARMADA HAMMERS AT BALTIC PORTS

One of Greatest Masses of British Heavies Ever Dispatched Gives Support To Russians
BERLIN, HAMBURG HIT
By A. I. GOLDBERG
London, Aug. 30.—(P)—Large formations of American bombers battered the continent today, bombing the German ports of Kiel and Bremen through clouds and the robot platforms in northern France.
Very heavy forces of British bombers before dawn supported the Russian armies of the north with attacks on the Nazi Baltic ports of Stettin and Königsberg, and Mosquitos hurled many two-ton blockbusters on battered Berlin and Hamburg.
Weather was bad and bombers cast their explosives by instruments through clouds. A communique said one bomber was lost over the robot bomb sites and that all fighters returned. No mention was made of losses over the German objectives.
Up to 500 Flying Fortresses and Liberators with Mustang fighter escorts smashed at the Pas de Calais targets. More than 500 Fortresses and 250 Mustangs went over the German ports.
The flying bomb targets are just in front of advancing Allied armies in northern France.
More than 1,000 heavy bombers participated in the overnight attacks, unloading approximately 1,500 tons of high explosives and incendiaries upon Stettin and another great cargo of destruction upon Königsberg.
This twin blow was in direct support of Russian armies battering at Germany's eastern frontiers, both the Baltic port of Stettin and the East Prussian capital of Königsberg being important links in German supply lines leading to the Russian front.
An hour after the attack upon Stettin, the air ministry said, reconnaissance revealed smoke from very large fires rising to a great height.
Clouds prevented clear observation of the results at Königsberg, which was attacked for the second time in four nights.
Both Berlin and Hamburg were hit by speedy Mosquitos, which carry a bomb load of 4,000 pounds.
The air ministry said 41 planes were lost in the overnight operations, during which many mines (Turn to Page Five)

Air Campaign Extended In Pacific Area

General Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Aug. 30.—(P)—A 188-ton bombing of Ambona island—the heaviest yet on any target in the Moluccas—was reported today as Gen. Douglas MacArthur's bombers pressed his methodical campaign to carve a road back to the Philippines with explosives.
In addition, a fresh raid on Iwo Jima in the volcano islands only 750 miles south of Tokyo was announced by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz at Pearl Harbor.
Fighter-escorted Liberators in a Sunday smash left the township of Ambon and the harbor on Ambon's southern shore a "mass of flames, with smoke rising 10,000 feet," MacArthur's communique related.
Lightning fighters raked the nearby Halong seaplane base and left a 3,000-ton freighter ablaze.
No interception was encountered; not a plane was lost.
British pouring out of India reached the Chindwin river in west Burma.
Chinese troops cracked the Japanese southeast China supply route with the capture of Suchow. It lies 55 miles north of Japanese-held Hengyang on the Canton-Hankow railway.
Tokyo reported the third air strike at Shanghai.

No Negotiated Peace, Hull Says

Washington, Aug. 30.—(P)—Secretary of State Hull said today that Germany now is evidently desirous of a negotiated peace, but that the Allied position for unconditional surrender is too well known to require reiteration.
Hull also declared that the American government has constantly in mind that Adolf Hitler and some of his henchmen may try to escape from Germany to neutral countries. The government, he said, is working on that problem.
Military men have expressed apprehension that Hitler might find sanctuary in Argentina or Spain.
Hull recalled to his news conference that President Roosevelt appealed to the neutrals a year ago not to furnish refuge to any Nazi leader and that the British made similar overtures.

NAVAL OFFICER FOUND DEAD OF SHOT WOUND

Scranton, Aug. 30.—(P)—Lieut. J. Donald Reifsyder, 35, United States navy, was found shot to death today behind a billboard in the Green Ridge section of the city. Police are continuing their investigation, but stated they believed the case one of suicide.
Lieut. Reifsyder, a well known attorney in civilian life, came back here last week to testify before the federal grand jury that is investigating "certain matters" of the middle Pennsylvania district.
Reifsyder, it was stated, was slated to appear before the federal grand jury again today or tomorrow.
The lieutenant, who was a member of a draft advisory board, the Scranton Club, and the family Welfare Association, was in his naval uniform when found dead.

Parade Climaxes Liberation Celebration Held In Paris

By GLADWIN HILL
Paris, Aug. 30.—(P)—Parisians returned today to arranging the scrambled fragments of their pre-war existence after a three-day liberation celebration climaxed yesterday by a parade of American troops past the Arc de Triomphe and down Paris' beautiful avenues.
That parade was not like a war's-end march along New York's Fifth Avenue by soldiers finished with battle. Swinging down the Champs-Elysees where their fathers had marched a generation ago, the men of a great U. S. infantry division followed the sound of their drums through Paris and headed back to the battle line. It was a solemn moment when Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, and Lt. Gen. Joseph Pierre Koenig laid a wreath on the tomb of France's unknown soldier of the first World War.
Things remained orderly and amiable in Paris today but far from normal. There was no public transportation—buses and subways dwindled to nothing after the invasion—and no one had hot water because of the fuel shortage.
The American army had established an endless chain of trucks and planes bringing in American food, and in addition reviving traffic from the French countryside. Everybody was eating, but a restaurant meal might cost $50 for three.
The sniping and random shooting had ceased and everyone felt a little more secure.

NAZIS FLEEING STRONGHOLDS ON BLACK SEA

Capture of Constanta Appears Likely To Be Followed By Complete Mop-up In Ploesti Zone
BULLETIN
London, Aug. 30.—(P)—The German radio said tonight that the Russians had resumed their offensive north of Warsaw and breached German lines at a number of points. The Red army in that area threatened not only to outflank the Polish capital, but menaces the defenses of East Prussia as well.
By the Associated Press
Moscow, Aug. 30.—(AP)—The beaten Germans fled today from their last strongholds on the Black Sea as Russia, with troops within 29 miles of Bulgaria, appealed to Bulgars for support in quick liberation of the Balkans.
The capture of Constanta, Romania's largest port, appeared likely to be followed within a few hours by a complete mop-up of scattered German forces in the Bucharest-Ploesti zone by Soviet armored columns last reported 37 miles to the northeast.
The Nazi rout in Wallachia province was so disorderly that road and rail bridges escaped demolition. Little sabotage was reported in the Ploesti oil fields.
(The German communique said Russian attacks were checked in the Buzau area of Romania and that Soviet troops invading Transylvania, part of Hungary since 1940, were thrown back in counter-attacks.)
With Hungary in the hands of a new government of generals and the Germans hastily increasing their garrison in the rump state of Slovakia, central Europe continued to be jarred politically as well as militarily by the power blows of Red Army groups under Generals Rodion Y. Malinovsky and Fedor I. Tolbukhin.
Bulgaria was warned that passive neutrality was not enough. The Bulgars watched Red warships cruising beyond Constanta in unchallenged supremacy of the Black Sea. Balic, a Romanian port less than ten miles north of Bulgarian Dobrudja, seemed an easy prize for another Russian amphibious assault.
A complete German collapse in the Balkans, perhaps within a few days, was seen hanging on possible Bulgarian action. Large withdrawals of German units from Greece have been reported. The Nazis were marching north along Bulgarian outposts in Macedonia. Bulgaria also is within striking distance of Nis, the Yugoslav rail junction controlling communications throughout most of the Balkan peninsula.
On all fronts yesterday the Russians met stiffening resistance from the Germans, but hundreds more fell captive.

Army-Navy Game Plans Announced

Washington, Aug. 30.—(P)—The Army-Navy football game will be played on the grounds of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis December 2.
Navy Secretary Forrestal, announcing this today, added that attendance again will be "strictly limited." Tickets will be sold only to residents of Annapolis and the area within 10 miles of that city.
All of the colorful ceremonies and parades ordinarily associated with the annual service classic will be omitted.
Forrestal's announcement came on the heels of renewed agitation to have the game played in one of the metropolitan centers to permit greater attendance.

NEW WAVES OF FLYING BOMBS HIT ENGLAND

London, Aug. 30.—(P)—New waves of German flying bombs hurtled against London and southern England during the night, most of them apparently coming from the region west of Boulogne upon which Allied armies now are rapidly advancing.
The assaults against the southern counties continued after daybreak and an alert was sounded again in the London area.

School Girls Offered Light Employment After Classes

Joint announcement was made by the management of the Warren Lamp Company and Sunray Electric, Inc., that a plan had been worked out by which high school girl students could be provided with assembly work after school hours.

Mr. Fitzgerald, of Sunray Electric, reports that applications should be made direct to him on the third floor of the brick building at the corner of Lexington and Parker and that arrangements can be made for working any evening as well as Saturday. He also stated that deliveries of fuses to the army are being held up for lack of assemblers, and that high school girls as well as housewives should take advantage of this opportunity to assist the war effort in an essential industry.

Applications for work at the Warren Lamp Company should be made at their Central Avenue plant to H. Smith who asks that all come with working papers who are not of age. Mr. Smith reports that orders for incandescent lamps for lighting war plants are as much as 12 months overdue because of the girl shortage, and that all workers are assured of permanent employment.

Need Is Great For People To Help Harvest

According to a report from C. C. Winans, Emergency Farm Labor Office there is a greater need now, perhaps than anytime since the war started for people to volunteer to help with the harvest of fruits, vegetables and fall crops. There is a need for about 200 potato pickers in the county and most of those will be used after the middle of September, but some of the farmers are now digging their early potatoes. Requests are being received for people to help with silo filling. The people of Warren county responded very well for the hay harvest and we are sure that once they know the present needs, all those that have extra time will be glad to register for this work.

The Farm Labor Office is recruiting women to stay in camps at North East to help pick prunes and grapes. Anyone that would like to go on this camping trip, September 7th, for a period of two to seven weeks should register promptly. The grape picking will start September 26th and another group will be sent at that time.

Prison Terms Given Two In Camp Thefts

Pennsylvania State Police and county sheriff investigation and prosecution in the cottage robbery series of the past several months was terminated Tuesday when Samuel Thomas, 4½ Jefferson avenue, and Ralph Wetmore, brought here from Little Valley, N. Y., were sentenced by Judge Allison D. Wade in a special court session.

Charged by police officials with burglary, both men entered a plea of guilty and were ordered to pay fines of $25, costs of prosecution, to make restitution and to serve no less than 24 months nor more than 48 months in the Allegheny County Workhouse.

Held by police on three burglary counts, Philip S. Harvey, of East Otto, N. Y., was sentenced by the court to pay a fine of $25, pay the costs of prosecution, make restitution and serve no less than three months nor more than six months in the Allegheny County Workhouse.

Arrested on the same charge, his brother, Delbert D. Harvey, of Russell, a juvenile, was sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and costs and to serve no less than three months nor more than six months in the Warren county jail. Their case grew out of the entry and robbery of a garage and two stores and a garage and two stores in Russell.

The case of Lee V. Hulings, non-support, was continued when he agreed to provide support for his family. Also continued was the case of Chris Christensen, Jr., of Pittsfield, charged on a like count, who was ordered to pay $4 a week toward the maintenance of his child and the costs of prosecution.

Several juvenile cases were heard in the judge's chambers and continued when no decision was reached in their disposition.

Another session of special court has been scheduled for 10 a. m., Wednesday.

Refuses Large Order Due To Lack of Help

As an indication of the need for additional girls to assist in the local war production program the Sunray Electric, Inc., reports that today they were forced to refuse an order for 2,000,000 electric plug fuses which the U. S. Army North Atlantic Division needs very urgently.

Jack McDonald, assistant sales manager of the local corporation, reported that if they could recruit an additional twenty-five girls without delay it would help substantially in catching up on the many high priority back orders that are as old as eight months.

Thumpings Handed Axis Are Mild To Blows Now Planned

By JAMES J. STREBIG
Associated Press Aviation Editor
Washington, Aug. 30—The navy, reviewing the thumpings handed to both ends of the Axis in the past 12 months, declared today that "these blows were light compared with the blows we are now preparing to deliver."

Commenting on the progress of the navy's air arm, which marks its 31st anniversary today, Vice Admiral Aubrey W. Fitch, deputy chief of naval operations for air, said in a statement:

"Task force 58, which scourged the Jap so effectively in the last eight months, was just a sweet, summer zephyr compared to the arrangements of ships, planes and other weapons—old and new—which are ready to lash out now."

He disclosed that the navy now has approximately 100 carriers "in or near action." Included are 14 of the mighty Essex type and nine of the fast and powerful independence class, converted from cruisers. More than 70 carriers were commissioned during the year and work was started on two of the three projected 45,000-ton battleship-type carriers.

Naval aviators averaged more than four Japanese planes shot down for every American plane lost during the year, Fitch said.

The actual score was more than 2,300 Japanese craft destroyed against 360 navy planes lost. He added that "a high percentage of our pilots was rescued."

"Long before another anniversary rolls around, naval aviation will be hurling at least two more new weapons against the foe—a twin-engine fighter and a scout-plane of unmatched speed and range," the admiral said.

The twin-engine plane presumably is the Grumman-designed F7F. The Truman committee disclosed its existence last spring, but the navy has not given out any details on the fighter, the first multi-engine plane designed for carrier operations.

Fitch gave the new Essex class carriers the major credit for advances against the enemy in the Pacific in the last year.

"They made possible the bypassing tactics which have placed us so close to Japan," he said. "They covered General MacArthur's advance to Hollandia. Without them we would still be inching along. We would probably still be in the Marshalls."

With 47,000 Navy and Marine corps pilots, 34,000 planes and 231 aviation shore facilities, the navy has multiplied its air arm sevenfold since Pearl Harbor.

Light Rains Fail To Bring An End To Drought In the State

Harrisburg, Aug. 30—A number of farmers have begun hauling water for livestock, pastures are about gone in some sections, corn is showing half a crop or less and many potato fields are down to less than half a crop as dry and mostly hot weather continued during the week ended Tuesday, August 22, according to the Pennsylvania weather and crop report for that period, issued today by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service, State Department of Agriculture.

Rainfall for the week was more general but slightly inadequate as deficiencies continued to increase in the southeast. Farmers are handicapped by slow progress in fall plowing because the ground is too dry and hard.

Continued burning up of pastures has forced many dairy farmers to put their herds on full winter rations, particularly in the southeastern counties. Silo filling continues ahead of the usual schedule. Some oats remain to be combined while much is being threshed, showing yields mostly fair. A few fields were not worth harvesting.

Tobacco is at various stages of growth, with some cut and some still to be topped. Harvesting of the second short crop alfalfa and clover is well along, some turning out rather poorly. Potatoes are greatly in need of rain in most sections, including Potter County.

Tomato yields generally are cut by heat and drought; there is much dry rot and the late crop shows a poor set of fruits. Sweet corn for market is about over in some southeast localities where all vegetable and fruit crops still need rain. Peaches are ripening slowly in some localities but in Erie County the grape outlook is good.

Planned Program On V-Day Urged For Public Schools

State College, Aug. 30—The best way to avoid "social intoxication" on V-Day is to permit people to celebrate in their own way, according to Dr. C. D. Champlin, professor of education at the Pennsylvania State College.

"Closing theatres, race tracks, and other amusement centers might force people into the streets, where mass excitement could easily run rampant," he warned. "While insistent that peace celebrations be regulated only by 'individual consciences,' Dr. Champlin advised schools and other community organizations to prepare programs designed to serve as partial 'shock absorbers.'"

A planned program, he pointed out, is especially important in the public schools where teachers and administrators might profitably utilize this opportunity to impress on children the lesson of this war.

"Champlin added that it would be the worst possible thing to dismiss schools and permit children to run loose."

"There has been too much of that already," he said.

WACS DESERVE CREDIT

According to officers from Erie who were in Warren Tuesday seeking enlistments the county is sending girls into the Women's Army Corps at the rate of about two each week. This is considered a most commendable showing and reflects much credit upon the capable young officers who have been making periodical visits to the community this summer.

In the two years since the creation of the Women's Army Corps, the women have been so fully absorbed into the army of the United States that the name "WAC"—used to designate an individual in the corps—is no longer appropriate.

Since the name "WAC" was born of an abbreviation of the corps initials, it is not descriptive of a woman soldier who is wearing Signal Corps, Transportation Corps, Medical Corps, etc., insignia. It is now the Army—male and female. The Army is composed of officers and enlisted personnel; some are men, some are women.

It is not the WAC that needs women for the prosecution of this war—it is the army that needs womanpower to supplement manpower. It is not the WAC that women join—they join the Army, for duty with the Service Forces, Ground Forces or Air Forces. The Women's Army Corps itself exists only as a means of recruiting, inducting, training and assigning women to the Army branch which can best utilize their special skills.

In General Marshall's own words, "The Women's Army Corps is an integral part of the Army of the United States, and its members, who are soldiers in every sense of the word, perform a full military part in this war."

"In view of the urgency of the present world situation, enlistments of women in the military service should take precedence, in my opinion, over any responsibility, except imperative family obligations."

"When the war has been won, the women in the Army will march shoulder to shoulder with the men in the great victory parades which will celebrate the return of peace to the world."

GERMANY AFTER DEFEAT

The speed with which the Allied mechanized forces are advancing and cutting the Germans to pieces in France, in a warfare of amazing fluidity, is impressing observers with the possibility that the retreating Nazis may arrive on their own frontiers in such disorganized state as to precipitate chaos within the Reich.

This idea fits with the fear among military leaders in Washington that Hitler and his captains may find refuge in neutral countries. It's a year since the Allies asked neutrals not to give sanctuary to these war criminals, and the subject may be raised with them again now.

Should Hitler and the other Nazi leaders flee in the face of military disaster, it would create an unprecedented situation. The vast German public would have little organization and no head, for the dictator and his personally appointed aides are the sole government over a people who are so utterly regimented that they have no will of their own.

Just suppose that on top of this the disorganized armies should retreat into Germany and carry on the fight in separate units under fanatical Nazi officers—and that's envisaged by some observers. You'd have a fine keg of kraut. There would be no armistice day, but the Allied forces would have to go in and clean a mighty dirty house.

The above isn't a prediction. It's a possibility.

While Warren thus far has escaped any outbreak of infantile paralysis, health officials are to be commended for taking a precautionary measure by waiving the vaccination rule for beginners for sixty days. In the meantime all citizens should observe the suggestions printed on another page as a measure to help avert an outbreak here.

Let's keep cool over the coal situation. When winter comes it will be time to get hot about it.

Health Officials Waive For Sixty Days Vaccination Rule

Many younger school children in Warren borough and surrounding localities will be affected by a Board of Health suggestion offered in connection with the spread of the polio epidemic in nearby county schools.

Ordinarily, children entering school for the first time in September are asked to bring with them at the time of registration a certificate of successful vaccination, signed by their family physician.

Since parents are asked by health authorities to avoid all unnecessary operations, including tonsilectomies, it has been decided to waive the vaccination certificate rule and allow these to be postponed 60 days after the opening of schools.

Dr. E. S. Briggs, school physician and county medical director, offers these suggestions in the name of the Board of Health:

1. Avoid all public gatherings.
2. Avoid unnecessary gatherings. (The country around Warren has many cases of polio—don't contact them if you can avoid it.)
3. Stay out of public swimming pools unless the water in the pools is treated chemically.
4. Avoid all unnecessary operations such as tonsilectomy. Vaccinations may be postponed 60 days after the opening of schools.
5. If child is taken ill call a physician. An early diagnosis is important.

Warren Young Men Urged To Join Up With Army Air Corps

Warren has been lagging lately in enlistments for the Army Air Corps. Enlistments for this type of service are still open to young men between the ages of seventeen and eighteen. Men of this age can enlist in the Army Air Corps Enlisted reserve and will not be called for duty until after their eighteenth birthday. If their schooling is not complete they will be allowed up to six months to finish their schooling. Men accepted for enlistment will be assigned to air crews as pilot, navigator, bombardier, or gunner. This affords the man a choice of the service he desires. If he is inducted in the regular manner after his eighteenth birthday he may be assigned to any branch of the service and not to the arm of his own choice.

Men interested in this type of enlistment may contact Lieut. V. C. Burkhardt of the Civil Air Patrol at the Court House Wednesday evenings between seven thirty and nine thirty or by phone at 1921.

On Thursday Aug. 31 Capt. Walter Steurnagle of the Army Air Corps will be at the Armory between 7 and 9 p. m. to interview candidates for enlistment. It is hoped that there will be a goodly turnout of young men interested in the Air Corps to discuss the matter with Capt. Steurnagle.

Some Changes Made By U. B. Conference

Several changes of interest locally are noted in the annual stationing report of the United Brethren Erie Conference, presented at the 83rd annual session held at Camp Findley, Findley Lake, N. Y., August 23-27.

As previously announced in these columns, Rev. R. H. Eggleston returns to Warren to begin his second year of service. Rev. C. M. McIntyre, at Youngsville for the past three years, is transferred to Riverview church in Buffalo, N. Y., and will be succeeded by Rev. J. L. Strong, of Prewsburg, N. Y.

Another county change is the transfer of Rev. Eugene Donelson from Chanders Valley to Rev. to be succeeded in the county charge by Rev. H. H. Atkins, of Farmers Valley, N. Y.

Rev. H. F. Reagle comes from Rev. to succeed Rev. Byron Berry at Bear Lake. The latter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berry, of this city, was sent to Millport, Pa. Rev. Rodger Morey, who has just completed his work at Bonebrake Seminary at Dayton, O., succeeds Rev. Strong at Prewsburg.

Friends will be interested, too, in the transfer of Rev. C. E. Dibble formerly of Warren, from Degolia to Hartfield, N. Y., and in the return of his son, Rev. Donald Dibble, formerly located at Youngsville, to Buffalo First church. Also formerly of Warren, Rev. H. L. Morton has been transferred from Erie Conference and is doing mission teaching in New Mexico. Rev. Ethel Leslie, immediate successor to Rev. Eggleston in the Warren church, was returned to West Branch.

CUPID'S CASTA

by MARTHA PREWITT

Chapter 22

DI PEERED at Lucky's strained face through a cloud of cigarette smoke. "Melodrama—sheer melodrama!" she cried. "Joe threw his glass down on the Sea Urchin's perfectly good tiles and shouted, 'I ought to shoot myself! That was dandy! Then he rushed out—'"

Lucky was leaning toward her. "Joe—Joe said he ought to shoot himself?"

"Yes. And I think he's got something—"

"He keeps a pistol on board! I've seen it!" She swung toward the closet, jerked at the door.

Di asked, "Would you mind telling me what you're going to do?"

Lucky struggled hurriedly into a blue robe. "I'm going down there to see if he's all right."

"Like that? To a man's boat?"

Lucky pulled the robe together with trembling fingers and tied the sash. "I certainly can't take time to dress!"

"Do you realize it's after two o'clock? What will people think?"

Lucky's eyes were blazing. "You'd stop to think what people would think—now? Well, I wouldn't!"

She opened the door. It slammed after her.

Di sat there on the bed a long minute. Lucky was a fool to do a thing like that. Suppose she ran into somebody leaving the dance. They'd think that she—

They? Thad? What would he think if he saw Lucky there in Joe's boat—at two in the morning. The time around her lovely mouth hardened. With a steady hand she reached for the telephone on the table beside her. To the night clerk, she said, "Connect me with Mr. Farrington's room, please. It's very important."

FIFTEEN minutes later an ancient taxi creaked down Bay Street, interminably it seemed to Di sitting rigid in the darkness. She stole a glance at Thad's tight-drawn profile. She hadn't known he'd be so upset over Lucky. It frightened her.

Di turned toward her and said, for the fifth time since she'd telephoned him, "I still don't get why you think she'd go down to Blue Dolphin at this time of night—and without even going up to her room!"

Di's slender hands clenched on the frail white net of her skirt. If she had any idea it would be as nerve-wracking as this, she'd never had dared. But it had seemed so simple. Just to lead Thad along the dock toward Blue Dolphin, and in passing Joe's sloop, they'd see Lucky there—accidentally. It wasn't Di's fault that Lucky raced out in pajamas because she thought Joe might shoot himself. And if Thad took the scene for something else, that wasn't her fault either.

Suppose the whole thing goes sour? she thought. Even if it works, suppose Thad ever finds out what I've done? Her uneasiness mounted as they neared the docks. She shivered involuntarily.

"Are you cold, Di?"

"No. No. Just worried. Though I'm convinced she went to Blue Dolphin. Maybe hoping to get some word of Joe. She's been so frantic."

Chapter 23

DI REMINDED herself that didn't prove anything, but she was trembling with expectancy when she got out. Thad told the driver to wait and they started down the long, ill-lit dock. Her heels clicked on the planks.

She walked on tip-toe then, glad Thad was wearing tennis shoes. With the splash of water against the piling, the constant creak and rattle of loose rigging on the boat, Lucky couldn't hear them coming. It would be better if she never knew they'd been here, much better.

The dock seemed endless. A dozen regrets and uncertainties flashed through Di's mind. It's a lucky trick. And dangerous. But I had to do SOMETHING. He was falling for her, Tony, too. She had Tony—and all his money. I'd rather have Thad. That's screwy. But he does something for me. I've GOT to have him.

They were nearing the sloop. She could see the white blur of the topsides, the lean black line of the mast. The portholes were only yellow dots. They wouldn't be able to see in till they were astern where light shone through the open companionway, throwing a warm glow beyond the cockpit to the dock.

Thad walked quickly, silently, his eyes on the boat. Di held back. He didn't wait for her. He was at the sloop's quarter now. She held her breath till he moved on into the pale reflected light. He stopped.

She was afraid to look at his face. She moved up slowly till she stood beside him. Slowly, deliberately, she turned her head. She tried then to take in the scene as Thad would see it. She felt at one moment immense relief and a nagging sense of guilt. But stronger than both was triumph.

Di clenched her hands, whispered, "Don't be harsh, darling. Can't you understand, a child of nature, motherless?"

Down in the cabin Lucky had raised her head, listening. Di slipped her arm through Thad's, drew him back along the dock out of earshot.

He spoke only once. "Joe . . . Joe of all people!"

"Darling, you forget she's known him much longer than she's known you." She spoke quietly, though excitement was surging in her.

Thad nodded. His face was impassive now, but she knew that behind that woodenness was a deep hurt. She could play on that, use it while he was still too shocked to care what happened to him.

When they reached the taxi, she said gently, "Let's go have a nightcap somewhere, Thad. It'll buck you up."

He looked at her as if he were surprised to find her there. "A nightcap? Yes. Why not?"

He helped her in and sat beside her. She slipped one slender

L UCKY sat on the edge of the narrow bunk. Above her head a kerosene lamp burned dully, heat waves shimmering over it. Joe was lying with his head on Lucky's knees. She bent over him, her hand on his shoulder, and she was talking to him, her voice a murmur so faint the words didn't reach beyond the room.

Di said, "Oh . . . A soft intake of breath, and then 'I should have known!' as if she blamed herself."

She raised her brown eyes to Thad's face, but he wasn't looking at her. Or at the boat. He was staring at the black water beyond, his expression of incredulity shifting as she watched. Slowly his eyes hardened, his mouth stiffened, a mask of pain and disillusionment coming down over his features.

Di clenched her hands, whispered, "Don't be harsh, darling. Can't you understand, a child of nature, motherless?"

Down in the cabin Lucky had raised her head, listening. Di slipped her arm through Thad's, drew him back along the dock out of earshot.

He looked at her as if he were surprised to find her there. "A nightcap? Yes. Why not?"

He helped her in and sat beside her. She slipped one slender hand into his, comfortingly. His fingers closed over it with a gratitude that in Thad was pathetic. She smiled into the darkness, a secret pleased smile.

A FEW days later, Lucky encountered Tony Riddle. From the mist of her past, Thad's recent coldness toward her. Lucky remembered to thank Tony for something he had done:

"Joe told me you'd bought his sloop, Tony. I know it was in terrible condition after the storm. But it meant a lot to him, getting the money. You're swell to do it."

He shook his head. "I didn't do anything for Joe. You did." Poor Joe. He had been in a bad way that night, filled with remorse, and babbling to her the sordid details of his life. But not all of them. Even in his drunken ramblings he'd never mentioned Thad's name.

Tony said, "Joe's a good guy. And you've got him back in shape again. His own sister couldn't have done better."

She colored faintly and looked at her hands lying listless in her lap. His saying that meant more to her because Thad—Thad hadn't seemed to feel that way. She'd sensed, without comprehending it, that it was something to do with Joe that had made Thad so terribly different.

When she'd said Joe was going on Blue Dolphin because Liza'd been sold, Thad had given her an odd look and had been about to speak. She'd seen it in his face and waited, glad to have whatever this was out in the open. But he hadn't spoken.

Di'd cut in with something trivial. Deliberately, Lucky thought. Di was always so smart about things like that. Lucky wished she could be. Maybe if she'd been more like Di, she wouldn't have lost Thad. Lost?

Brownies' Tailspin Appears Over As They Defeat Indians

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

There was a suspicion going the rounds today that the St. Louis tailspin was over as the Brownies went into the final test of their last long road trip with a four-game lead and visions of happy harvest days ahead at Sportsman's Park.

Adding to Luke Sewell's peace of mind was the second place situation which had seen Boston, New York and Detroit in the runner-up spot in the last three days. The three contenders were having a tough time trying to decide which one was going to bear down on the Brownies, who have been staggering along the road losing 12 of 21 away from home games since Aug. 6.

Detroit appeared to present the main problem at the moment as Steve O'Neill had his Tigers in second place, two points ahead of Boston, and was scheduled to take on St. Louis in a rough and tumble "crosshull" series in the Brownies' back yard this weekend.

The Tigers took over the runner-up spot yesterday as Dizzy Trout ran the show all by himself in shutting out Chicago, 7-0, while Boston and New York split. Trout ran his string of scoreless innings to 19, hung up his 22nd win and 8th straight by hogging the headlines by smacking his fifth homer with one on and adding a double and single to drive in five runs.

Boston and New York each popped up with a rookie find who proved he could win at least once in the big show. The Red Sox showed Clem Driesewerd from Sacramento, who stopped the Yanks with six hits to top, 8-1, and Joe McCarthy countered with Floyd Bevens from Newark who turned the tables, 11-2 for an even break.

Bobo Newsom and Jesse Flores hurled Philadelphia to a double-barreled triumph over Washington, 3-1 and 11-4, recapturing fifth place and making it 8 out of 10 in the win column for the A's.

St. Louis rolled up an 8-3 night game margin on Cleveland with Denny Galehouse recovering from his recent losing troubles to grab his sixth over Specs Klemm.

The Cardinals continued to gun for the Cubs' 1906 record by notching victory No. 91 at Cincinnati's expense, 3-0. Ted Wilks topped his win record to 14-1, boasting the longest streak of the major league season at 11.

Chicago thumped Pittsburgh 15-4 behind Paul Derringer but the Pirates bounced back for a 3-4 verdict to square matters on Preacher Roe's six-hitter.

Dixie Walker took over the batting lead with three hits as Brooklyn shaded the Phillies, 2-1, and Mel Ott and Ernie Lombardi socked homers to help New York's Bill Voiselle grab a 4-2 victory over the Boston Braves.

ALL STAR GAME
Evanston, Ill., Aug. 30 (P)—For four straight seasons, the All-Star football game has bubbled over with touchdowns and 10-night's 11th renewal of the talent-packed classic—pitting the Chicago Bears and the college realm's best before an expected throng of 50,000—should be still another sizzler.

Bet-makers are siding with the Bears, 9-5, convinced that the Bears' quarterback Sid Luckman, on leave from his eastern maritime base, and a few rugged holdovers from the club's past powerhouses, can maintain a perfect record against the Collegians. The Bears own three of the five professional triumphs in the series and played a scoreless tie in the 1934 inaugural.

BEHIND THE LINES

The YMCA-Church mullball league has not been running too smoothly. Interest has dropped, mostly because of football, which is now the big gun. Weather has hindered the playing of some of the games, making it necessary to play two games in some evenings. . . . Harry Hutchings will arrive on Labor Day to teach here and assist in football. . . . The new basketball change which allows players five fouls will be of great help to some of the H. S. court stars. Some of the boys will be able to play a little longer. . . . Last night's meeting at the high school at which new football rule changes were explained was well worth while. The most outstanding of new rules concerns backfield passing. . . . Talk about town indicates that a good industrial loop will be had at the Y this basketball season. Among probable entries: NFO, Struthers Wells, Sylvania, and G. G. Greene. . . . Erie Academy, who comes to Warren to vie with the Dragons on Monday, is reported to have one of the strongest teams in the history of the school. Watch out Dragons! . . . This column's choice for the outstanding football player goes to North Warren's Red Lee. Red is definitely a backfield man. How he can run! . . . For those who take an interest in track, the YMCA holds a track meet every Tuesday afternoon at Beatty Field. There is some real talent developing. . . . Those black goggles Larry Zobrest wears around his eyes to protect his glasses. . . . Another very promising back on the grid team is Joe Allen. Joe's family has been active in sports for a good many years. . . . Most of the football candidates who will be returning next year are quite small. The 45 squad won't be as large as usual. . . . Bobby Christensen has been chosen to assist in managing this year's football squad, replacing Red Tome, who will be unable to take part in football activity because of the injuries received in an accident.

Plenty Action Promised At Wilder Field

The Pittsburgh Monarchs, rated next to the Homestead Grays as the outstanding colored ball club of western Pennsylvania, will show baseball fans of this vicinity plenty of action when they appear against the National Forge at Wilder Field Irvine, next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Victorious in 85 out of 98 starts this season, the Monarchs will bring to the Irvine diamond an array of colored performers who have seen plenty of action and who can stay in there with the best. Oakmont and Dormont, two of the top teams in the Pittsburgh district, are the only clubs that have been able to divide a two-game series with the Monarchs. Outstanding performance of the Monarchs was their 11-2 victory over Dormont. The latter club won the Greater Pittsburgh League, as well as the Amateur Federation Tournament held in Pittsburgh, and is given a good chance of taking the national championship at Youngstown, Ohio.

Other clubs which have been beaten by the Monarchs include the Pittsburgh Crawfords, of the Negro National League; Alabama Red Sox, Huntington, W. Va., Uniontown and Crafton.

The current winning streak of the Monarchs has now reached 27 games, the club having been undefeated since early July.

The Monarchs are slated to meet the Homestead Grays at Pittsburgh in mid-September in a charity battle, having been selected by fans of the Pittsburgh district as the outstanding club to meet the Grays.

Included in the Monarch lineup are several former stars of the Grays, the Atlanta Crackers, Baltimore Black Sox, Wiley College and Howard College.

BASORA STAGES COMEBACK TO BEAT HARRIS

Pittsburgh, Aug. 30 (P)—Jose Basora, 158, swarthy Puerto Rican, and sixth ranking contender for the middleweight title, came off the canvas last night to knock out Ossie (Bulldog) Harris, 160, in the fourth round of the scheduled ten-round main event at Hickey Park.

Basora, down in the first round for a count of one, and trailing all the way, put Harris down for the count with a short right hook to the jaw in 1:03 of the fourth.

Harris, forcing the fighting most of the time, had Basora in trouble through the first three rounds as he piled up points in the in-fighting.

Philadelphia Sports Item Interests Here

The Philadelphia Record publishes a sports feature written by a man using the nom de plume of "Philadelphia Lawyer," which may be fact or it may be fancy:

I was too a ball player. Played left for Titusville. One day we went to Oil City and the score was naught-naught to the eighth. Then we got the bases full and Buck Dogull came up. He'd played in the majors and he calls for time out an' takes off his cap and makes a speech. Says he's goin' to lam one over the center field stand. You never heard such a boo'n' they gave him. The count goes to three and two an' out me open, if Buck didn't do just as he said. The ball went over the center field stand and I guess it's still goin'.

There weren't but woty rooters from Oil City but they all climbed down and carried Buck around the bases on their shoulders.

I come up next and the pitcher he just throws a hard straight one over the plate. I caught it on the end of my bat an' makes my first homer that season. No one ever noticed it, they were so busy cheerin' Buck.

Comin' back on the train the manager says to me, "You ain't hittin' em this season an' I'm goin' to lay you off."

"Hittin' em, hell," I says. "When didn't a homer rate as a hit?" He wouldn't believe me until we called in the scorer.

The next day I quit baseball an' went into the newspaper game. Now I'm an editor, but I'd rather be a ballplayer.

PONY LEAGUE

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 30 (P)—The Jamestown Falcons, with a double win over Bradford and the assistance of Hornell's Billy Kovolack, nudged the Batavia Clippers out of second place in the PONY League standings last night.

Jamestown swept to 2-0 and 12-1 victories over Bradford. After Hornell had taken the opener of a doubleheader from Batavia, 4-3, Kovolack scored on the Pirates' only hit in the second game and then ended a Batavia threat in the seventh with a sensational catch against the fence for another Hornell win, 1-0.

The Olean Oilers shut out the Erie Sailors, 7-0, in the seven-inning opener of a twin bill and then lost the nightcap, 3-2. The league-leading Lockport Cubs, having suffered two defeats at the hands of the Wellsville Yankees, retaliated with an 8-1 victory.

Today's games: Lockport at Bradford (2), Hornell at Erie, Olean at Batavia, Jamestown at Wellsville (2).

Third Round In Mushball Is Postponed

The officers and managers of the YMCA-Church mullball league have voted to disband the third round of the league. Due to interference of weather and the fact that quite a few fellows who participate are now playing football.

The second round, which has not yet been completed, will be decided as soon as weather permits playing of the postponed games. There are two games, the deciding one between the First Methodists and the St. Joseph teams. Which ever club wins this contest will be the champs of the second round.

Should the Methodists cop this game, it would be necessary to schedule a playoff between the first and second half champs, St. Joes being the first half winner.

Any teams wishing to play games may do so by scheduling the games for whatever time is suitable to them. If there are any who intend to do so, please notify the league president, Mush Johnson.

Politics? Mrs. Dewey Prefers To Talk About Family Affairs

Not the least of Mrs. Dewey's talents is her flair for interior decorating. Here she is arranging flowers in one of the rooms at the Executive Mansion in Albany, which she has modernized herself.

By ROSSELEN CALLAHAN
NEA Staff Writer
Albany, Aug. 30—Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey's "average" day is her hours. She always waits up for him, even though it may be 3 o'clock in the morning before he decides to call it a day.

Mrs. Dewey conducts her interviews with a grace and ease born of 14 years of political campaigning. Though the wife of the Republican candidate for President has preferred to remain in the background, her business acumen and sense of organization have made her an invaluable aide during her husband's meteoric rise to national prominence.

Yet, when she is asked to answer political questions, Mrs. Dewey would rather talk about her family and her farm.

What changes would she, as First Lady, make in the White House? She carries that one by saying that there is still much redecorating to be done at the Executive Mansion in Albany. "Wouldn't you like to see the changes I've made in the second floor?" she asks.

Should married women remain at home or pursue careers of their own? "Circumstances," says Mrs. Dewey, "are often the determining factor for working wives."

But the answer to the question of career vs. marriage in her case is clear. As Frances Eileen Hutt of Sherman, Tex., and the Great White Way, she gave up a most promising singing career to become the wife of Tom Dewey, a young, inexperienced lawyer she met when both were students during the 1923 summer session of the Chicago Musical College.

Asked if the famous Dewey mustache was in evidence when she first met him, she laughingly recalled: "Oh no, he grew that on a bet the summer he went to Europe after graduating from the University of Michigan. I didn't see it until he came home in the fall, when he asked me if I liked it well enough for him to keep it."

"Somehow," she added thoughtfully, "it just seems to fit him. I can't picture him without it now."

The Deweys must admit that they have come a long way from the two-and-a-half room walkup where they set up housekeeping in New York to their 300-acre "Dappleme" dairy farm at Fawling, N. Y. Here their two sons—Thomas Edmund, Jr., 11, and John Martin, 8, have made a paying proposition of their good-sized Victory garden.

"I buy all their fruit and vegetables at prevailing OPA prices," Mrs. Dewey explained, "and the boys keep close tabs on what I owe, too," she chuckled.

What will she do about the boys while she accompanies the governor on his campaign trip this fall? "We're most fortunate," she said. "My husband's cousin from Boston, who is a school teacher, said she would stay with them while we're away."

When she greets you, there is sincere welcome in her voice and warm interest in what you have to say. Photographers seldom do

Greater Tin Can Salvage Urgent Need

Dr. Francis B. Haas, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a letter to school superintendents and principals, asked for increased activity in the collection of tin cans, prepared for war purposes, as soon as the schools open next month.

"The Government tells us," said Dr. Haas, "that the need for tin for war purposes is greater even today than last year."

"We want the pupils of every Pennsylvania school to regularly engage in the collection of prepared tin cans throughout the coming school year."

Dr. Haas pointed out that during the last six months of the last school term, more than 37,000,000 cans were collected through the schools in the salvage program.

Tomato Crop Reduced By Dry Weather

Pennsylvania's commercial tomato crop has been reduced by dry weather close to a ton per acre, the agriculture department estimated today.

D. M. James, of the department's fruit and vegetable division, at Harrisburg, said recent cool weather would prevent further losses and "there will still be a good crop unless late planted fields are caught by early frosts."

James also reported slow movement of tomatoes for home canning caused, he said, by excess amounts canned last year by housewives and a good supply coming from victory gardens.

In another estimate, the department said Pennsylvania farmers will produce "the largest turkey crop in the state's history" this year and 1,250,000 birds or 20 percent more than last year will be available for holiday dinners.

Weather Forecast For Rest of Week

Extended weather forecast for period Wednesday, Aug. 30 through Saturday, September 2.

Eastern Pennsylvania, Eastern New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and Virginia—temperatures continuing on the cool side throughout period but a little warmer Wednesday followed by cool remainder; highest temperatures less than 80, on warmest day and below 70 on coolest day; rather general rain Thursday and Friday, averaging one-half to one inch, otherwise fair. Full moon Saturday night.

Western Pennsylvania, Western New York, Ohio and West Virginia—temperatures continuing on the cool side but rather warm Wednesday, and again by week end with maximum temperatures near 80, otherwise highest temperature near or below 70; rather general rain, somewhat showery late Wednesday, Wednesday night, and Thursday, clearing by Friday and fair remainder; total rain averaging one-half to one inch. Full moon Saturday night.

her justice, for the pink and white of her skin, the gloss of her light brown hair and the quiet elegance of her clothes are missed in the uncompromising black and white pictures.

A perfect hostess, Mrs. Dewey is known for her small dinner parties. We do no lavish entertaining, and seldom go to the theater or dancing. In these times it doesn't seem the thing to do," she feels.

The Executive Mansion was a fertile field for Mrs. Dewey's flair for decorating. Today, going from the lower floor—which is still red and velvet—to the second story is something like leaving the horse and buggy era and entering the streamlined age.

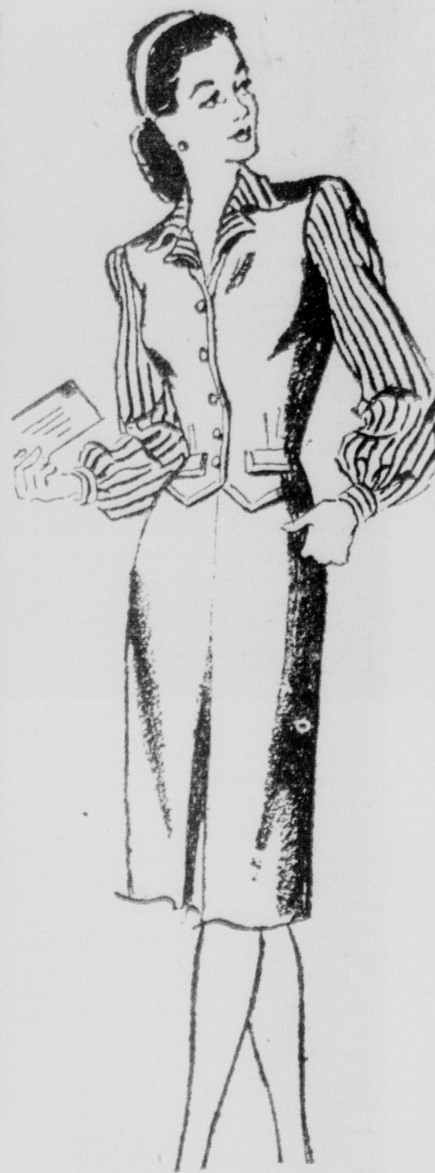

Cool green walls and rug, white lamps and furniture and precious prints and paintings, which she borrowed from the Albany Institute, have made it a decorator's dream.

As we started downstairs and saw the red walls again, Mrs. Dewey sighed, "Now I'd like to do over the downstairs—but," she concluded wistfully, "it might have been she was thinking of what could be done to the White House."

German Formation of 946 Surrenders To Yank Officer

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Grenoble, Aug. 25—(Delayed)—(AP)—A German formation of 946 troops surrendered today to a 24-year old American lieutenant, Clarence E. Coggins of Poaeu, Okla., whom they had captured a short time before.

The Nazis were members of a division which the French said had been using ruthless methods in attempting to combat Patriot activities, and apparently surrendered to the American for fear of what might happen if they fell into French hands.

Coggins was captured Wednesday night while on reconnaissance northeast of Grenoble with Capt. Hurd L. Reeves of Miami, Fla., and Capt. Herbert Johnson of Syracuse, N. Y. He was listed as missing.

"They put me with 11 of my men who were captured, but when they learned I was an officer they called me over for a conference with their officers," he said.

"They called me back several times for additional talks. It seemed strange at first, but then I got the idea—they were discussing surrendering to us."

Eventually their commanding officer, a major, asked Coggins to take the surrender offer over the lines. Coggins made the trip accompanied by a German officer.

Later he returned to the Germans with the terms from his battalion commander, Lt. Col. Philip M. Johnson, of Portland, Me.—that they lay down arms and come in their own vehicles.

The Germans did so early today.

Paris Under Nazi Rule Not So Bad For Those With Cash

By HAL BOYLE
Paris, Aug. 25—(Delayed)—(AP)—The average Frenchman didn't do so badly under four years of Nazi rule—unless he worked for a living.

For those who played ball with the Germans, or who had a big bank roll to draw on, France remained one of the world's garden spots—a free-flowing land of borrowed plenty where you could buy anything you wanted.

"But you had to have the price," said Alec Jean Greciet, who has learned considerably about life and people from 29 years of service as a floor waiter in the Grand hotel.

Alec, who looks like a magazine caricature of the typical Frenchman, with his neat pinpoint moustache, Gallic gestures and shrewd eyes, awoke me at 7 o'clock in a room lately inhabited and speedily vacated by a German Baron.

He charged me 20 francs (40 cents) for a teapot full of boiling water, then sat and told me about highlife and lowlife in Paris while we shared readymade coffee from army K-rations.

"This is the first cup of real coffee I have had in four years," he said. "It is wonderful. Our national coffee has many things in it—but unfortunately none of them are coffee."

"Conditions were bad but liveable in my country for the last four years, but they have been terrible ever since the invasion and particularly the last six weeks, since the trains stopped coming in from the country and we had had no food."

"We were told many months ago

by the British radio, however, to prepare for this time of shortages—and many Frenchmen have been quietly saving out and hiding what food they could. I and my wife put away some macaroni, chocolate, marmalade and potatoes."

"No wine?" I asked, surprised. "But of course, a few bottles of wine also," said Alec with a shrug and smile.

He said that families who had no such forethought, however, were fortunate to escape starvation, because the city was terribly short of meat, vegetables and other foods, due to the breakdown in transport.

"There was practically no bread. There was no milk—since the invasion there has been no milk for babies."

"Before that a baby got only a half pint of milk a day after reaching nine months and at three and a half years the milk ration ceased entirely. There has been practically no milk for the old people and the sick in hospitals."

"Yes, there was no milk for the French in Paris—it was reserved for the Germans. They had first choice—and they took everything they wanted."

"Our hungry people for the last few weeks would stand outside the barriers and watch German troops stuffing themselves with meat, butter, vegetables and bread. But that has been true throughout this long occupation. The Germans took what they wished—and then came our children and our sick."

"The only French who have been able to live well are those who can afford to buy most of their supplies in the black market—and if they have that kind of money they could live as well here as any place in the world."

Alec said the Germans had treated the French civilian population "correctly" until the outbreak of street fighting six days ago.

"After that they became very nervous and afraid. At night they stayed behind their barbed wire barriers, except for strong patrols. They did not call 'halt' twice. Many civilians were wounded."

AMERICAN COLUMNS SMASH BEYOND REIMS

Two Yank Armies Less Than Forty Miles of Belgium

One Unit Battles on Approaches of Loen, Well Across Escape Path of Nazis Above Seine

ROUEN IS EVACUATED

BULLETIN
London, Aug. 30.—(P)—The United Nations radio at Algiers announced tonight that American troops had occupied Loen, 36 miles from Belgium.

London, Aug. 30.—(P)—Berlin radio declared today that American troops had driven almost to St. Dizier, little more than 80 miles from the German border.

By the Associated Press
London, Aug. 30.—Two American armored columns were less than 40 miles from Belgium today.

One clattered into Reims, siege fortress of World War I, and pushed 10 miles beyond.

A second unit to the northwest battled on approaches to Laon, within 38 miles of the frontier, carrying Doughboys well across the escape path for German armies above the Seine and on the Pas de Calais rocket-bomb coast.

The U. S. Third Army struck ahead all along a 70-mile front, and the Allies on the western wing knifed as deep as 25 miles north of the Seine between Paris and the sea.

The German high command said the Seine port-city of Rouen had been evacuated.

Reims, noted for its cathedral and its champagne, is 50 miles from Belgium, and 106 from the German homeland border. Tank units crossing the Vesle river already had covered 10 of the remaining miles to Belgium, Americans besieging Laon were but 93 miles from Brussels, Belgian capital.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army was lunging on an almost straight line from Laon southeast to Vitry-le-Francois on the upper Marne, and was mopping up that town 96 miles from the Reich and 45 miles from Verdun. Chalons-sur-Marne to the northwest, and Les Grandes Loges eight miles northwest of Chalons fell.

Loss of Rouen, where converging highways lead to Dieppe, Le Havre and the Somme valley, was announced by Berlin as Canadians closed in.

Anniversary of Naval Air Force

Washington, Aug. 30.—(P)—The navy's famed Task Force 58—its scoured the Japanese and drove her fleet into hiding with the battle of the eastern Philippines—was "just a sweet, summer zephyr" compared with new ships, planes and weapons now ready and waiting.

These are the views of Rear Admiral Alfred E. Montgomery, commander of an aircraft carrier task group in the Pacific, and of Vice Admiral Aubrey S. Fitch, deputy chief of naval operations for air, delivered today on the 31st anniversary of the navy's air service.

Montgomery observed that "considering the unexpectedly small losses during the past year and the increasing expansion of our forces, we can x x x look with confidence to the future and the early extermination of the Japanese."

NEW REGIME IS INSTALLED IN HUNGARY

Germany Tries To Shore Up Reich's Last Balkan Defenses Against On-rushing Soviet Army

NEW MILITARY CABINET

By the Associated Press
London, Aug. 30.—(P)—A new government was installed today in Hungary in an apparent German attempt to shore up the Reich's last Balkan defenses against the on-rushing Red army.

Berlin broadcasts last night announced the fall of Premier Doeme Sztojay's regime less than 24 hours after Russian forces had spearheaded deeply within Hungary-held Transylvania.

The German propaganda agency, Transvaal, said Admiral Nicholas Horthy, Hungarian regent, had appointed Col. Gen. Vitez Geca Lakatos to form a new government. Lakatos, cabinet, announced simultaneously, was studied with military figures.

Lakatos himself was Hungarian commander on the Russian front. This abrupt change in Hungary, under tight Nazi control since Hitler's troops marched in last March, came amid reports from both Axis and Allied sources that the Germans were withdrawing as hurriedly as possible from Bulgaria, now on the verge of peace.

A dispatch from Ankara said it was believed that Stoicho Moshanov, Bulgarian peace emissary, already had informed Great Britain and the United States that his country has accepted armistice terms. This dispatch quoted informed sources there as declaring an armistice was imminent and that the document may be signed in Cairo.

Moscow, which on Saturday announced that Bulgaria had proclaimed herself a neutral, declared last night the Soviet government had not accepted this statement, which in effect served notice upon Sofia to surrender to the United States and Great Britain, Russia and Bulgaria are not at war.

Heavy Fighting Reported On Italian Front

BY NOLAN NORGARD

Rome, Aug. 30.—(P)—Smashing through veteran German parachute troops in the first full blown attack on the Italian front in recent weeks, British and Polish forces are driving off his last h'll positions before the Adriatic end of the Gothic line and are within 18 miles of the Po valley rim.

Heavy fighting was reported as the Eighth Army dislodged the crack Nazi first parachute division—reformed since its defeat at Cassino—from a three-mile long ridge overlooking the Foglia river after crossing the Anzola river.

The naval command disclosed that a British destroyer had supported the advance along the Adriatic by slipping close in shore Monday night and bombarding the fortified Pesaro area.

In the center of the Italian front the Germans continued slowly pulling back into strong defenses in the northern Apennines.

Charge Turkey Is Friendly To Reich

BY DANIEL DE LUCE

Moscow, Aug. 30.—(P)—The semi-official newspaper Pravda today accused Turkey of harboring German spies and turning her diplomatic break with the Nazis into a "friendly rupture."

With Russian troops closer to the Dardanelles than on any occasion since the first World War, Pravda asserted German diplomatic, military, aviation and commercial attaches still were in Ankara 20 days after their scheduled departure.

(At the same time the FCC reported a Moscow broadcast appealing to Spaniards to oust the Franco regime and break with Germany "to gain a place for Spain among the democratic and freedom-loving nations.") It said Franco was a "willing host for all Fascists who are trying to escape the people's justice.")

National Campaign Sprints Into Its Final Ten Weeks

By the Associated Press
The presidential campaign sprinted into its final ten weeks today, speeded up by President Roosevelt's announcement of his first personal activity and the formal opening of Governor Thomas E. Dewey's race by three other Republican governors.

Mr. Roosevelt told his news conference yesterday that he would address the AFL Teamsters' Union September 23 at a dinner in Washington, as he did in launching his winning third term campaign in 1940.

He said that, while the speech would not be very political, it would have a political tinge and that the Democratic national committee would pay for his time on the air.

There are indications the president will let Vice President Wallace do most of the traveling in this campaign, along with Senator Truman of Missouri, the chief executive news runner.

Governors Earl Warren of California, Dwight H. Green of Illinois and Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut launched Dewey's Republican bid for the presidency with a triple-radio-borne blast at Sidney Hillman and big city Democratic leaders backing the Roosevelt-Truman ticket.

Green asserted that details of President Roosevelt's renunciation were "dictated by the new deal high command and carried into execution by the bosses of the big city new deal machines, Kelly and Hague and Flynn and Hannegan."

Warren said that the Republican party "does not propose to buy this election," and that it would insist "that Mr. Sidney Hillman and his committees" be barred from doing so.

Hillman, who disclaimed before a congressional campaign funds committee Monday any intention of his CIO Political Action Committee to "capture" either major political party, also was the target of an attack by Republican National Chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr.

At a Chicago news conference, Brownell said there was "growing revulsion" in labor ranks against the "arrogance and effrontery" of Hillman and the CIO-PAC.

Democratic National Chairman Robert L. Hannegan concentrated on the vote-getting mechanics of the campaign. Announcing a three-day series of conferences with party leaders of 15 New England states.

Marriage By Remote Control Found Legal

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 30.—(P)—A soldier with the invasion forces in France and a girl in Oakland, Calif., were married here by remote control—and it could happen legally only in Oklahoma.

Attorneys predict the ceremony—second of its type in Tulsa—will be the forerunner of hundreds of such mail order marriages destined to make Oklahoma the gemma green of the U. S. armed forces.

Months ago the army and navy decided that matrimony was one of the biggest worries of the boys at the front.

The war department bigwigs wondered if a marriage by mail would stand up in court, and the National Association of Legal Aid Committees, after an exhaustive search, said, yes, but only in Oklahoma.

RAF ARMADA HAMMERS AT BALTIC PORTS

One of Greatest Masses of British Heavies Ever Dispatched Gives Support To Russians

BERLIN, HAMBURG HIT

By A. I. GOLDBERG
London, Aug. 30.—(P)—Large formations of American bombers battered the continent today, bombing the German ports of Kiel and Bremen through clouds and the robot platforms in northern France.

Very heavy forces of British bombers before dawn supported the Russian armies of the north with attacks on the Nazi Baltic ports of Stettin and Königsberg, and Mosquitos hurried many two-ton blockbusters on battered Berlin and Hamburg.

Weather was bad and bombers cast their explosives by instruments through clouds. A communique said one bomber was lost over the robot bomb sites and that all fighters returned. No mention was made of losses over the German objectives.

Up to 500 Flying Fortress and Liberator with Mustang fighter escorts smashed at the Pas de Calais targets. More than 500 Fortresses and 250 Mustangs went over the German ports.

The flying bomb targets are just in front of advancing Allied armies in northern France.

More than 1,000 heavy bombers participated in the overnight attacks, unloading approximately 1,500 tons of high explosives and incendiaries upon Stettin and another great cargo of destruction upon Königsberg.

This twin blow was in direct support of Russian armies battering at Germany's eastern frontiers, both the Baltic port of Stettin and the East Prussian capital of Königsberg being important links in German supply lines leading to the Russian front.

An hour after the attack upon Stettin, the air ministry said, reconnaissance revealed smoke from very large fires rising to a great height.

Clouds prevented clear observation of the results at Königsberg, which was attacked for the second time in four nights.

Both Berlin and Hamburg were hit by speedy Mosquitos, which carry a bomb load of 4,000 pounds.

The air ministry said 41 planes were lost in the overnight operations, during which many mines (Turn to Page Five)

No Negotiated Peace, Hull Says

Washington, Aug. 30.—(P)—Secretary of State Hull said today that Germany now is evidently desirous of a negotiated peace, but that the Allied position for unconditional surrender is too well known to require reiteration.

Hull also declared that the American government has constantly in mind that Adolf Hitler and some of his henchmen may try to escape from Germany to neutral countries. The government, he said, is working on that problem.

Military men have expressed apprehension that Hitler might find sanctuary in Argentina or Spain.

Hull recalled to his news conference that President Roosevelt appealed to the neutrals a year ago not to furnish refuge to any Nazi leader and that the British made similar overtures.

Parade Climaxes Liberation Celebration Held In Paris

BY GLADWIN HILL

Paris, Aug. 30.—(P)—Parisians returned today to arranging the scrambled fragments of their pre-war existence after a three-day liberation celebration climaxed yesterday by a parade of American troops past the Arc de Triomphe and down Paris' beautiful avenues.

That parade was not like a war's-end march along New York's Fifth Avenue by soldiers finished with battle. Swinging down the Champs-Elysees where their fathers had marched a generation ago, the men of a great U. S. infantry division followed the sound of their drums through Paris and headed back to the battle line. It was a solemn moment when Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, and Lt.

Air Campaign Extended In Pacific Area

General Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Aug. 30.—(P)—A 188-ton bombing of Ambona island the heaviest yet on any target in the Moluccas—was reported today as Gen. Douglas MacArthur's bombers pressed his methodical campaign to carve a road back to the Philippines with explosives.

In addition, a fresh raid on Iwo Jima in the volcano islands only 750 miles south of Tokyo was announced by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz at Pearl Harbor.

Fighter-escorted Liberators in a Sunday smash left the township of Ambon and the harbor on Ambona's southern shore a "mass of flames, with smoke rising 10,000 feet," MacArthur's communique related.

Lightning fighters raked the nearby Halong seaplane base and left a 3,000-ton freighter ablaze.

No interception was encountered; not a plane was lost.

British pouring out of India reached the Chindwin river in west Burma.

Chinese troops cracked the Japanese southeast China supply route with the capture of Suchowang. It lies 55 miles north of Japanese-held Hengyang on the Canton-Hankow railway.

Tokyo reported the third air strike at Shanghai.

NAVAL OFFICER FOUND DEAD OF SHOT WOUND

Scranton, Aug. 30.—(P)—Lieut. J. Donald Reifsnider, 35, United States navy, was found shot to death today behind a billboard in the Green Ridge section of the city. Police are continuing their investigation, but stated they believed the case one of suicide.

Lieut. Reifsnider, a well known attorney in civilian life, came back here last week to testify before the federal grand jury that is investigating "certain matters" of the middle Pennsylvania district.

Reifsnider, it was stated, was slated to appear before the federal grand jury again today or tomorrow.

The lieutenant, who was a member of a draft advisory board, the Scranton Club, and the family Welfare Association, was in his naval uniform when found dead.

Things remained orderly and amiable in Paris today but far from normal. There was no public transportation—buses and subways dwindled to nothing after the invasion—and no one had hot water because of the fuel short-age.

The American army had established an endless chain of trucks and planes bringing in American food, and in addition reviving traffic from the French countryside. Everybody was eating, but a restaurant meal might cost $50 for three.

The sniping and random shooting had ceased and everyone felt a little more secure.

NAZIS FLEEING STRONGHOLDS ON BLACK SEA

Capture of Constanta Appears Likely To Be Followed By Complete Map-up In Ploesti Zone

FIND LITTLE SABOTAGE

BULLETIN
London, Aug. 30.—(P)—The German radio said tonight that the Russians had resumed their offensive north of Warsaw and breached German lines at a number of points. The Red army in that area threatened not only to outflank the Polish capital, but menaces the defenses of East Prussia as well.

By the Associated Press
Moscow, Aug. 30.—(AP)—The beaten Germans fled today from their last strongholds on the Black Sea as Russia, with troops within 29 miles of Bulgaria, appealed to Bulgars for support in quick liberation of the Balkans.

The capture of Constanta, Romania's largest port, appeared likely to be followed within a few hours by a complete mop-up of scattered German forces in the Bucharest-Ploesti zone by Soviet armored columns last reported 37 miles to the northeast.

The Nazi rout in Wallachia province was so disorderly that road and rail bridges escaped demolition. Little sabotage was reported in the Ploesti oil fields.

(The German communique said Russian attacks were checked in the Buzau area of Romania and that Soviet troops invading Transylvania, part of Hungary since 1940, were thrown back in counter-attacks.)

With Hungary in the hands of a new government of generals and the Germans hastily increasing their garrison in the rump state of Slovakia, central Europe appeared to be jared politically as well as militarily by the power blows of Red Army groups under Generals Rodion Y. Malinovsky and Fedor I. Tolbukhin.

Bulgaria was warned that passive neutrality was not enough. The Bulgars watched Red warships cruising beyond Constanta in unchallenged supremacy of the Black Sea. Baileia, a Romanian port less than ten miles north of Bulgarian Dobrudja, seemed an easy prize for another Russian amphibious assault.

A complete German collapse in the Balkans, perhaps within a few days, was seen hinging on possible Bulgarian action. Large withdrawals of German units from Greece have been reported. The Nazis were marching north along Bulgarian outposts in Macedonia. Bulgaria also is within striking distance of Nis, the Yugoslav rail junction controlling communications throughout most of the Balkan peninsula.

On all fronts yesterday the Russians met stiffening resistance from the Germans, but hundreds more fell captive.

Army-Navy Game Plans Announced

Washington, Aug. 30.—(P)—The Army-Navy football game will be played on the grounds of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis December 2.

Navy Secretary Forrestal, announcing this today, added that attendance again will be "strictly limited." Tickets will be sold only to residents of Annapolis and the area within 10 miles of that city.

All of the colorful ceremonies and parades ordinarily associated with the annual service classic will be omitted.

Forrestal's announcement came on the heels of renewed agitation to have the game played in one of the metropolitan centers to permit greater attendance.

School Girls Offered Light Employment After Classes

Joint announcement was made by the management of the Warren Lamp Company and Sunray Electric, Inc., that a plan had been worked out by which high school girls students could be provided with assembly work after school hours.

Mr. Fitzgerald, of Sunray Electric, reports that applications should be made direct to him on the third floor of the brick building at the corner of Lexington and Parker and that arrangements can be made for working any evening as well as Saturday. He also stated that deliveries of fuses to the army are being held up for lack of assemblers and that high school girls as well as housewives should take advantage of this opportunity to assist the war effort in an essential industry.

Applications for work at the Warren Lamp Company should be made at their Central Avenue plant to H. Smith who asks that all come with working papers who are not of age. Mr. Smith reports that orders for incandescent lamps for lighting war plants are as much as 12 months overdue because of the girl shortage, and that all workers are assured of permanent employment.

Need Is Great For People To Help Harvest

According to a report from C. C. Winans, Emergency Farm Labor Office there is a greater need now, perhaps than anytime since the war started for people to volunteer to help with the harvest of fruits, vegetables and fall crops.

There is a need for about 200 potato pickers in the county and most of those will be used after the middle of September, but some of the farmers are now digging their early potatoes. Requests are being received for people to help with silo filling. The people of Warren county responded very well for the hay harvest and we are sure that once they know the present needs, all those that have extra time will be glad to register for this work.

The Farm Labor Office is recruiting women to stay in camps at North East to help pick peaches and grapes. Anyone that would like to go on this camping trip, September 7th, for a period of two to seven weeks should register promptly. The grape picking will start September 25th and another group will be sent at that time.

Prison Terms Given Two In Camp Thefts

Pennsylvania State Police and county sheriff investigation and prosecution in the cottage robbery series of the past several months was terminated Tuesday when Samuel Thomas, 41½ Jefferson avenue, and Ralph Wetmore, brought here from Little Valley, N. Y., were sentenced by Judge Allison D. Wade in a special court session.

Charged by police officials with burglary, both men entered a plea of guilty and were ordered to pay fines of $25, costs of prosecution, to make restitution and to serve no less than 24 months nor more than 48 months in the Allegheny County Workhouse.

Held by police on three burglary counts, Philip S. Harvey, of East Otto, N. Y., was sentenced by the court to pay a fine of $25, pay the costs of prosecution, make restitution and serve no less than three months nor more than six months in the Allegheny County Workhouse.

Arrested on the same charge, his brother, Delbert D. Harvey, of Russell, a juvenile, was sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and costs and to serve no less than three months nor more than six months in the Warren county jail. Their case grew out of the entry and robbery of a garage and two stores and a garage and two stores in Russell.

The case of Lee V. Hulings, non-support, was continued when he agreed to provide support for his family. Also continued was the case of Chris Christensen, Jr., of Pittsfield, charged on a like count, who was ordered to pay $4 a week toward the maintenance of his child and the costs of prosecution.

Several juvenile cases were heard in the judge's chambers and continued when no decision was reached in their disposition.

Another session of special court has been scheduled for 10 a. m., Wednesday.

Refuses Large Order Due To Lack of Help

As an indication of the need for additional girls to assist in the local war production program the Sunray Electric, Inc., reports that today they were forced to refuse an order for 2,000,000 electric plug fuses which the U. S. Army North Atlantic Division needs very urgently.

Jack McDonald, assistant sales manager of the local corporation, reported that if they could recruit an additional twenty-five girls without delay it would help substantially in catching up on the many high priority back orders that are as old as eight months.

Thumpings Handed Axis Are Mild To Blows Now Planned

By JAMES J. STREIBIG
Associated Press Aviation Editor
Washington, Aug. 30—The navy, reviewing the thumpings handed to both ends of the Axis in the past 12 months, declared today that "these blows were light compared with the blows we are now preparing to deliver."

Commenting on the progress of the navy's air arm, which marks its 31st anniversary today, Vice Admiral Aubrey W. Fitch, deputy chief of naval operations for air, said in a statement:

"Task force 58, which scoured the Jap so effectively in the last eight months, was just a sweet, summer zephyr compared to the arrangements of ships, planes and other weapons—old and new—which are ready to lash out now."

He disclosed that the navy now has approximately 100 carriers "in or near action." Included are 14 of the mighty Essex type and nine of the fast and powerful independence class, converted from cruisers. More than 70 carriers were commissioned during the year and work was started on two of the three projected 45,000-ton battleship-type carriers.

Naval aviators averaged more than four Japanese planes shot down for every American plane lost during the year, Fitch said.

The actual score was more than 2,300 Japanese craft destroyed against 360 navy planes lost. He added that "a high percentage of our pilots was rescued."

"Long before another anniversary rolls around, naval aviation will be hurling at least two more new weapons against the foe—a twin-engine fighter and a scouting plane of unmatched speed and range," the admiral said.

The twin-engine plane presumably is the Grumman-designed F7F. The Truman committee disclosed its existence last spring, but the navy has not given out any details on the fighter, the first multi-engine plane designed for carrier operations.

Fitch gave the new Essex class carriers the major credit for advances against the enemy in the Pacific in the last year.

"They made possible the by-passing tactics which have placed us so close to Japan," he said. "They covered General MacArthur's advance to Hollandia. Without them we would still be inching along. We would probably still be in the Marshalls."

With 47,000 Navy and Marine corps pilots, 34,000 planes and 231 aviation shore facilities, the navy has multiplied its air arm sevenfold since Pearl Harbor.

Light Rains Fail To Bring An End To Drought In the State

Harrisburg, Aug. 30—A number of farmers have begun hauling water for livestock, pastures are about gone in some sections, corn is showing half a crop or less and many potato fields are down to less than half a crop as dry and mostly hot weather continued during the week ended Tuesday, August 22, according to the Pennsylvania weather and crop report for that period, issued today by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service, State Department of Agriculture.

Rainfall for the week was more general but slightly inadequate as deficiencies continued to increase in the southeast. Farmers are handicapped by slow progress in fall plowing because the ground is too dry and hard.

Continued burning up of pastures has forced many dairy farmers to put their herds on full winter rations, particularly in the southeastern counties. Silo filling continues ahead of the usual schedule. Some oats remain to be combined while much is being threshed, showing yields mostly fair. A few fields were not worth harvesting.

Tobacco is at various stages of growth, with some cut and some still to be topped. Harvesting of the second short crop alfalfa and clover is well along, some turning out rather poorly. Potatoes are greatly in need of rain in most sections, including Potter County. Tomato yields generally are cut by heat and drought; there is much dry rot and the late crop shows a poor set of fruits. Sweet corn for market is about over in some southeast localities where all vegetable and fruit crops still need rain. Peaches are ripening slowly in some localities but in Erie County the grape outlook is good.

Planned Program On V-Day Urged For Public Schools

State College, Aug. 30—The best way to avoid "social intoxication" on V-Day is to permit people to celebrate in their own way, according to Dr. C. D. Champlin, professor of education at the Pennsylvania State College.

Closing theaters, race tracks, and other amusement centers might force people into the streets, where mass excitement could easily run rampant," he warned.

While insisting that peace celebrations be regulated only by "individual consciences," Dr. Champlin advised schools and other community organizations to prepare programs designed to serve as partial "cathartic absorbers."

A planned program, he pointed out, is especially important in the public schools where teachers and administrators might profitably utilize this opportunity to impress on children the lesson of this war.

Dr. Champlin added that it would be the worst possible thing to dismiss schools and permit children to run loose.

"There has been too much of that already," he said.

ODD LAMP EXHIBIT

Another interesting exhibit appears in one of the Liberty street windows of the Warren National Bank this week, in the form of two homemade lamps. These are the handiwork of W. H. The table lamp is a twisted piece of hard maple with a base of ash, and the floor lamp is a similar piece of soft maple with a yellow birch base, and both are odd, but attractive pieces for a camp or home.

Brownies' Tailspin Appears Over As They Defeat Indians

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

There was a suspicion going the rounds today that the St. Louis tailspin was over as the Brownies went into the final test of their last long road trip with a four-game lead and visions of happy harvest days ahead at Sportsman's Park.

Adding to Luke Sewell's peace of mind was the second place situation which had seen Boston, New York and Detroit in the runner-up spot in the last three days. The three contenders were having a tough time trying to decide which one was going to bear down on the Brownies, who have been staggering along the road losing 12 of 21 away from home games since Aug. 6.

Detroit appeared to present the main problem at the moment as Steve O'Neill had his Tigers in second place, two points ahead of Boston, and was scheduled to take on St. Louis in a rough and tumble "crosshull" series in the Brownies' back yard this weekend.

The Tigers took over the runner-up spot yesterday as Dizzy Trout ran the show all by himself in shutting out Chicago, 7-0, while Boston and New York split. Trout ran his string of scoreless innings to 19, hung up his 22nd win and 8th straight but hogged the headlines by smacking his fifth homer with one on and adding a double and single to drive in five runs.

Boston and New York each popped up with a rookie find who proved he could win at least once in the big show. The Red Sox showed Clem Driesewer from Sacramento, who stopped the Yanks with six hits to top, 8-1 and Joe McCarthy countered with Floyd Bevers from Newark who turned the tables, 11-2 for an even break.

Bobo Newsom and Jesse Flores hurled Philadelphia to a double-barreled triumph over Washington, 3-1 and 11-4, recapturing fifth place and making it 8 out of 10 in the win column for the A's.

St. Louis rolled up an 8-3 night game margin on Cleveland with Denny Galehouse recovering from his recent losing troubles to grab his sixth over Specs Killeman.

The Cardinals continued to notch victory No. 91 at Cincinnati's expense, 3-0. Ted Wilks upped his win record to 14-1, boasting the longest streak of the major league season at 11.

Chicago thumped Pittsburgh 15-4 behind Paul Derringer but the Pirates bounced back for a 3-4 verdict to square matters on Preacher Roe's six-hitter.

Dixie Walker took over the batting lead with three hits as Brooklyn shaded the Phillies, 2-1, and Mel Ott and Ernie Lombardi socked homers to help New York's Bill Voiselle grab a 4-2 victory over the Boston Braves.

By the Associated Press
Washington—Ike Williams, 136, Brunswick, Ga., outpointed Jimmy Hatcher, 137, Lake City, S. C., (10); Tommy Molla, 147, Baltimore, outpointed Ernie Miller, 141, New York (6).

ALL STAR GAME
Evanson, Ill., Aug. 30 (P)—For four straight seasons, the All-Star football game has bubbled over with touchdowns and tonight's 11th renewal of the talent-packed classic—pitting the Chicago Bears and the college realm's best before an expected throng of 50,000—should be still another sizzler.

Set-makers are siding with the Bears, 9-5, convinced that the Bears' quarterback Sid Luckman, on leave from his eastern maritime base, and a few rugged hold-overs from the club's past power-houses, can maintain a perfect record against the Collegians. The Bears own three of the five professional triumphs in the series and played a scoreless tie in the 1934 inaugural.

BEHIND THE LINES

The YMCA-Church moshball league has not been running too smoothly. Interest has dropped, mostly because of football, which is now the big gun. Weather has hindered the playing of some of the games, making it necessary to play two games in some evenings. . . . Harry Hutchings will arrive on Labor Day to teach here and assist in football. . . . The new basketball change which allows players five fouls will be of great help to some of the H. S. court stars. Some of the boys will be able to play a little longer. . . . Last night's meeting at the high school at which new football rule changes were explained was well worth while. The most outstanding of new rules concerns backfield passing. . . . Talk about town indicates that a good industrial loop will be had at the Y this basketball season. Among probable entries: NFO Struthers Wells, Sylvania, and G. G. Greene. . . . Erie Academy, who comes to Warren to vie with the Dragons on Monday, is reported to have one of the strongest teams in the history of the school. Watch out Dragons! . . . This column's choice for the outstanding football player goes to North Warren's Red Lee. Red is definitely a backfield man. How he can run! . . . For those who take an interest in track, the YMCA holds a track meet every Tuesday afternoon at Beaty Field. There is some real talent developing. . . . Those black goggles Larry Zobrest wears around are to protect his glasses. . . . Another very promising back on the grid team is Joe Allen. Joe's family has been active in sports for a good many years. . . . Most of the football candidates who will be returning next year are quite small. The 45 squad won't be as large as usual. . . . Bobby Christensen has been chosen to assist in managing this year's football squad, replacing Red Tome, who will be unable to take part in football activity because of the injuries received in an accident.

Plenty Action Promised At Wilder Field

The Pittsburgh Monarchs, rated next to the Homestead Grays as the outstanding colored ball club of western Pennsylvania, will show baseball fans of this vicinity plenty of action when they appear against the National Forge at Wilder Field Irvine, next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Victorious in 85 out of 98 starts this season, the Monarchs will bring to the Irvine diamond an array of colored performers who have seen plenty of action and who can stay in there with the best.

Oakmont and Dormont, two of the top teams in the Pittsburgh district, are the only clubs that have been able to divide a two-game series with the Monarchs. Outstanding performance of the Monarchs was their 11-2 victory over Dormont. The latter club won the Greater Pittsburgh League, as well as the Amateur Federation Tournament held in Pittsburgh, and is given a good chance of taking the national championship at Youngstown, Ohio.

Other clubs which have been beaten by the Monarchs include the Pittsburgh Crawfords, of the Negro National League; Alabama Red Sox, Huntington, W. Va., Uniontown and Crafton.

The current winning streak of the Monarchs has now reached 27 games, the club having been undefeated since early July.

The Monarchs are slated to meet the Homestead Grays at Pittsburgh in mid-September in a charity battle, having been selected by fans of the Pittsburgh district as the outstanding club to meet the Grays.

Included in the Monarch lineup are several former stars of the Grays, the Atlanta Crackers, Baltimore Black Sox, Wiley College and Howard College.

BASORA STAGES COMEBACK TO BEAT HARRIS

Pittsburgh, Aug. 30 (P)—Jose Basora, 158, swarthy Puerto Rican, and sixth ranking contender for the middleweight title, came up off the canvas last night to knock out Ossie (Bulldog) Harris, 160, in the fourth round of the scheduled ten-round main event at Hickey Park.

Basora, down in the first round for a count of one, and trailing all the way, put Harris down for the count with a short right hook to the jaw in 1:03 of the fourth.

Harris, forcing the fighting most of the time, had Basora in trouble through the first three rounds as he piled up points in the in-fighting.

Philadelphia Sports Item Interests Here

The Philadelphia Record publishes a sports feature written by a man using the nom de plume of "Philadelphia Lawyer," which may be fact or it may be fancy.

I was too a ball player. Played left for Titusville. One day we went to Oil City and the score was naught-naught to the eighth. Then we got the bases full and Buck Dogull came up. He'd played in the majors and he calls for time out and takes off his cap and makes a speech. Says he's goin' to lam one over the center field stand. You never heard such a booin' they gave him. The count goes to three and two an' out me open, if Buck didn't do just as he said. The ball went over the center field stand and I guess it's still goin'.

There was a but boy rosters from Oil City but they all climbed down and carried Buck around the bases on their shoulders.

I come up next and the pitcher he just throws a hard straight one over the plate. I caught it on the end of my bat an' makes my first homer that season. No one ever noticed it, they were so busy cheerin' Buck.

Comin' back on the train the manager says to me, "You ain't hittin' 'em this season an' I'm goin' to lay you off."

"Hittin' 'em, hell," I says. "When didn't a homer rate as a hit?" He wouldn't believe me until we called in the scorer.

The next day I quit baseball an' went into the newspaper game. Now I'm an editor, but I'd rather be a ballplayer.

PONY LEAGUE

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 30 (P)—

The Jamestown Falcons, with a double win over Bradford and the assistance of Hornell's Billy Kovolok, nudged the Batavia Clippers out of second place in the PONY League standings last night.

Jamestown swept to 2-0 and 12-1 victories over Bradford.

After Hornell had taken the opener of a doubleheader from Batavia, 4-3, Kovolok scored on the Pirates' only hit in the second game and then ended a Batavia threat in the seventh with a sensational catch against the fence for another Hornell win, 1-0.

The Olean Oilers shut out the Erie Sailors, 7-0, in the seven-inning opener of a twin bill and then lost to Lockport, 3-2. The league-leading Lockport Cubs, having suffered two defeats at the hands of the Wellsville Yankees, retaliated with an 8-1 victory.

Today's games: Lockport at Bradford (2), Hornell at Erie, Olean at Batavia, Jamestown at Wellsville (2).

Third Round In Mushball Is Postponed

The officers and managers of the YMCA-Church moshball league have voted to disband the third round of the league. Due to interference of weather and the fact that quite a few fellows who participate are now playing football.

The second round, which has not yet been completed, will be decided as soon as weather permits playing of the postponed games. There are two games, the deciding one between the First Methodists and the St. Joseph teams. Which ever club wins this contest will be the champs of the second round.

Should the Methodists cop this game, it would be necessary to schedule a playoff between the first and second half champs, St. Joseph being the first half winner.

Any teams wishing to play games may do so by scheduling the games for whatever time is suitable to them. If there are any who intend to do so, please notify the league president, Mush Johnson.

Two Yank Armies
Less Than Forty Miles of Belgium

(From Page One)

The great Atlantic port of Le

Havre was outfanked.

British troops plunging above the Seine toward the Pas de Calais "rocket coast" reached Neufmarche, 25 miles from the river.

Longchamps and Maineville were taken in their advance.

The Allied grip on the north bank of the Seine had been consolidated from Louviers to Paris, 45 miles by air and much longer by the river's winding course.

All German hopes of a stand on the Seine were dashed.

Two great Allied wings were swiftly slicing up northern France.

The U. S. Third Army, rolling forward northeast of Paris from two bridgeheads over the Aisne at Soissons and Pont-Arcy 14 miles farther east, struck within two miles of Laon, 10 miles beyond Soissons. The Belgian border was but 38 miles ahead of these columns picking up more than a mile an hour.

Other units of Lt.-Gen. George S. Patton's army penetrated to Montargis, 10 miles southeast of Laon, and 50 miles from Sedan—gate of the Nazi breakthrough into France in 1940.

Germans by-passed and cut up by lightning armored strokes were being killed or seized by mop-up columns in a great area northeast and east of Paris.

Although the Americans were meeting little resistance in their rapid advances northeast of Paris the progress was harder at the western end of the Allies' S-shaped front.

What Germans were left on the south side of the Seine were in two remaining horseshoe loops. They were resisting fiercely, but Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's troops were smashing into both loops to clean them out.

Change Made In Command On Continent

Allied ground forces.

After publication of these criticisms, a statement was issued at supreme Allied headquarters August 16 which said:

"It is officially stated that supreme headquarters that an announcement of General Bradley's command of the 12th Army group in no way affects the position of General Montgomery as overall commander of all Allied ground forces in France under General Eisenhower."

ISLAND SURRENDERS TO CRUISER OMAHA

Washington, Aug. 30—(P)—

Surrender of the island of Porques to the United States cruiser Omaha in connection with the invasion of southern France was reported by Navy Secretary Forrestal today.

He said the island off the coast of southern France was "stubbornly defended" but that the enemy garrison ran up the white flag and surrendered "following several days of bombardment by naval forces."

"The capture of the bastion guarding the eastern approaches to the Toulon area completed the investment by Allied forces of the Hyeres Islands," he said.

Politics? Mrs. Dewey Prefers To Talk About Family Affairs

Not the least of Mrs. Dewey's talents is her flair for interior decorating. Here she is arranging flowers in one of the rooms at the Executive Mansion in Albany, which she has modernized herself.

By ROSSELEN CALLAHAN
NEA Staff Writer
Albany, Aug. 30—Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey's "average" hours are her hours. She always waits up for him, even though it may be 3 o'clock in the morning before he decides to call it a day.

Mrs. Dewey conducts her interviews with a grace and ease born of 14 years of political campaigning. Though the wife of the Republican candidate for President has preferred to remain in the background, her business acumen and sense of organization have made her an invaluable aide during her husband's meteoric rise to national prominence.

Yet, when she is asked to answer political questions Mrs. Dewey would rather talk about her family and her farm.

What changes would she, as First Lady, make in the White House? She parries that one by saying that there is still much redecorating to be done at the Executive Mansion in Albany. "Wouldn't you like to see the changes I've made in the second floor?" she asks.

Should married women remain at home or pursue careers of their own? "Circumstances," says Mrs. Dewey, "are often the determining factor for working wives."

But the answer to the question of career vs. marriage in her case is clear. As Frances Eileen Hutt of Sherman, Tex., and the Great White Way, she gave up a most promising singing career to become the wife of Tom Dewey, a young, inexperienced lawyer she met when both were students during the 1923 summer session of the Chicago Musical College.

Asked if the famous Dewey mustache was in evidence when she first met him, she laughingly recalled: "Oh no, he grew that on a bet the summer he went to Europe after graduating from the University of Michigan. I didn't see it until he came home in the fall, when he asked me if I liked it. Well enough for him to keep it."

"Somehow," she added thoughtfully, "it just seems to fit him. I can't picture him without it now."

The Deweys must admit that they have come a long way from the two-and-a-half room walkup where they set up housekeeping in New York to their 300-acre "Dapplemere" dairy farm at Pawling, N. Y. Here their two sons—Thomas Edmund, Jr., 11, and John Martin, 8, have made a paying proposition of their good-sized Victory garden.

"I buy all their fruit and vegetables at prevailing OPA prices," Mrs. Dewey explained, "and the boys keep close tabs on what I owe, too," she chuckled.

What will she do about the boys while she accompanies the governor on his campaign trip this fall? We're most fortunate," she said. "My husband's cousin from Boston, who is a school teacher, said she would stay with them while we're away."

When she greets you, there is sincere welcome in her voice and warm interest in what you have to say. Photographers seldom do.

Greater Tin Can Salvage Urgent Need

Dr. Francis B. Haas, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a letter to school superintendents and principals, asked for increased activity in the collection of tin cans, prepared for war purposes, as soon as the schools open next month.

"The Government tells us," said Dr. Haas, "that the need for tin for war purposes is greater even today than last year."

"We want the pupils of every Pennsylvania school to regularly engage in the collection of prepared tin cans throughout the coming school year."

Dr. Haas pointed out that during the last six months of the last school term, more than 37,000,000 cans were collected through the schools in the salvage program.

Tomato Crop Reduced By Dry Weather

Pennsylvania's commercial tomato crop has been reduced by dry weather close to a ton per acre, the agriculture department estimated today.

D. M. James, of the department's fruit and vegetable division, at Harrisburg, said recent cool weather would prevent further losses and "there will still be a good crop unless late planted fields are caught by early frosts."

James also reported slow movement of tomatoes for home canning caused, he said, by excess amounts canned last year by housewives and a good supply coming from victory gardens.

In another estimate, the department said Pennsylvania farmers will produce "the largest turkey crop in the state's history" this year and 1,285,000 birds or 20 percent more than last year will be available for holiday dinners.

Weather Forecast For Rest of Week

Extended weather forecast for period Wednesday, Aug. 30 through Saturday, September 2.

Eastern Pennsylvania, Eastern New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and Virginia—temperatures continuing on the cool side throughout period but a little warmer Wednesday followed by cool remainder; highest temperatures less than 80, on warmest day and below 70 on coolest day; rather general rain Thursday and Friday, averaging one-half to one inch, otherwise fair. Full moon Saturday night.

Western Pennsylvania, Western New York, Ohio and West Virginia—temperatures continuing on the cool side but rather warm Wednesday, and again by week end with maximum temperatures near 80, otherwise highest temperature near or below 70; rather general rain, somewhat showery late Wednesday, Wednesday night, and Thursday, clearing by Friday and fair remainder; total rain averaging one half to one inch. Full moon Saturday night.

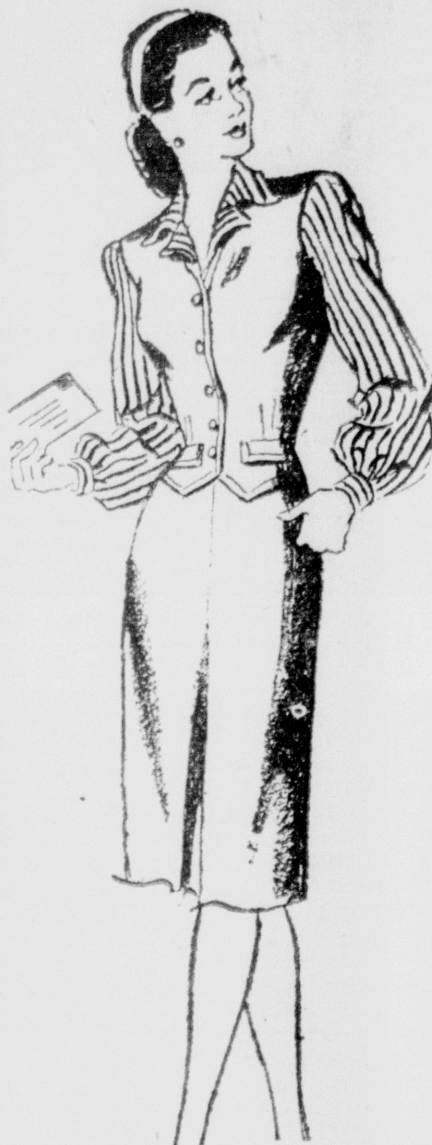

her justice, for the pink and white of her skin, the gloss of her light brown hair and the quiet elegance of her clothes are missed in the uncompromising black and white pictures.

A perfect hostess, Mrs. Dewey is known for her small dinner parties. We do no lavish entertaining, and seldom go to the theater or dancing. In these times it doesn't seem the thing to do," she feels.

The Executive Mansion was a fertile field for Mrs. Dewey's flair for decorating. Today, going from the lower floor—which is still red and velvet—to the second story is something like leaving the horse and buggy era and entering the streamlined age.

Cool green walls and rug, white lamps and furniture, and precious prints and paintings which she borrowed from the Albany Institute, have made it a decorator's dream.

As we started downstairs and saw the red walls again, Mrs. Dewey sighed. "Now I'd like to do over the downstairs—but," she concluded wistfully, and it might have been she was thinking of what could be done to the White House.

German Formation of 946 Surrenders To Yank Officer

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Grenoble, Aug. 25—(Delayed)—(AP)—A German formation of 946 troops surrendered today to a 24-year old American lieutenant, Clarence E. Coggins of Pocatou, Okla., whom they had captured a short time before.

The Nazis were members of a division which the French said had been using ruthless methods in attempting to combat Patriot activities, and apparently surrendered to the American for fear of what might happen if they fell into French hands.

Coggins was captured Wednesday night while on reconnaissance northeast of Grenoble with Capt. Hurd L. Reeves of Miami, Fla., and Capt. Herbert Johnson of Syracuse, N. Y. He was listed as missing.

"They put me with 11 of my men who were captured, but when they learned I was an officer they called me over for a conference with their officers," he said.

"They called me back several times for additional talks. It seemed strange at first, but then I got the idea—they were discussing surrendering to us."

Eventually their commanding officer, a major, asked Coggins to take the surrender offer over the lines. Coggins made the trip accompanied by a German officer.

Later he returned to the Germans with the terms from his battalion commander, Lt. Col. Philip M. Johnson, of Portland, Me.—that they lay down arms and come in their own vehicles.

The Germans did so early today.

Paris Under Nazi Rule Not So Bad For Those With Cash

By HAL BOYLE
Paris, Aug. 25—(Delayed)—(AP)—The average Frenchman didn't do so badly under four years of Nazi rule—unless he worked for a living.

For those who played ball with the Germans, or who had a big bank roll to draw on, France remained one of the world's garden spots—a free-flowing land of borrowed plenty where you could buy anything you wanted.

"But you had to have the price," said Alec Jean Grelet, who has learned considerably about life and people from 29 years of service as a floor waiter in the Grand hotel.

Alec, who looks like a magazine caricature of the typical Frenchman, with his neat pinpoint moustache, Gallic gestures and shrewd eyes, awoke me at 7 o'clock in a room lately inhabited and speedily vacated by a German Baron.

He charged me 20 francs (40 cents) for a teapot full of boiling water, then sat and told me about highlife and lowlife in Paris while we shared readymade coffee from army K-rations.

"This is the first cup of real coffee I have had in four years," he said. "It is wonderful. Our national coffee has many things in it but unfortunately none of them are coffee."

"Conditions were bad but liveable in my country for the last four years, but they have been terrible ever since the invasion and particularly the last six weeks, since the trains stopped coming in from the country and we had had no food."

"We were told many months ago

by the British radio, however, to prepare for this time of shortages—and many Frenchmen have been quietly saving out and hiding what food they could. I and my wife put away some macaroni, chocolate, marmalade and potatoes."

"No wine?" I asked, surprised. "But of course, a few bottles of wine also," said Alec with a shrug and smile.

He said that families who had no such forethought, however, were fortunate to escape starvation, because the city was terribly short of meat, vegetables and other foods, due to the breakdown in transport.

"There was practically no bread. There was no milk—since the invasion there has been no milk for babies."

"Before that a baby got only a half pint of milk a day after reaching nine months and at three and a half years the milk ration ceased entirely. There has been practically no milk for the old people and the sick in hospitals."

"Yes, there was no milk for the French in Paris—it was reserved for the Germans. They had first choice—and they took everything they wanted."

"Our hungry people for the last few weeks would stand outside the barriers and watch German troops stuffing themselves with meat, butter, vegetables and bread. But that has been true throughout this long occupation. The Germans took what they wished—and then came our children and our sick."

"The only French who have been able to live well are those who can afford to buy most of their supplies in the black market—and if they have that kind of money they could live as well here as any place in the world."

Alec said the Germans had treated the French civilian population "correctly" until the outbreak of street fighting six days ago.

"After that they became very nervous and afraid. At night they stayed behind their barbed wire barriers, except for strong patrols. They did not call 'halt' twice. Many civilians were wounded."

Endless Chain of Woe for Nazis

The tremendous air superiority of the Allies is symbolized by the apparently endless chain of Flying Fortresses in the photo above. They are not yet in combat—just replacements for the Army's 8th Air Force bombers which are blasting fleeing Nazis. Note comparative size of truck, in circle.
